A Different War
More Gold
What About Wages?
Crime Penalties.

BY ARTHUR BRISBANE

"TERRIBLE NEWS" comes from Honduras—Headlines shock us. Northern Honduras cut off from the world. One killed in battle. Communication ceases."

Then your memory goes back a few years to dispatches read when we were shipping our men to Europe by the millions, and our dollars by the billions.

You remember that one single shrieking shell would kill more than 31 dead" and one poison gas shell might ruin the lives of hundreds.

Hurry Honduras!

FRANCE is shipping gold to the United States, and our reserve bank is struggling "to curb the gold inflow."

Stopping gold here improves European financial health, raising the exchange value of the pound and the franc. Explain that if you can.

It is like the old idea of curing a man to cure his disease.

The Federal Reserve bank of New York reduces the bill-buying rate to the lowest levels in history to stop the gold influx, forcing dealers in bankers' acceptances to push their rates, and indicating a boom in the rediscount rate.

All this is pleasant for those who have now money on call to do their speculating. It makes you wonder what "finance and the gold standard" really mean.

WISE MEN who meet at directors' meetings ask each other: "What do you think about liquidating wages?"

Liquidating means cutting down. The question is superfluous, for wages are being liquidated rapidly.

A man who put up a building for this writer a year ago offered to put up another like it for much less, "because I can hire for $6 a day union workers to whom I paid $12 a year ago. Architects are hiring men to work hard for 20 cents an hour."

THERE IS SOMETHING for men of influence to think about before urging wage reductions. Every dollar cut from the top of the wage scale will come out of industries with big stock issues. However little you pay, the men must eat. But they are not obliged to buy automobiles, radio sets, vacuum cleaners, theater tickets.

If you want a REAL depression, cut about $15,000,000,000 a year off the total U. S. A. payroll.

RUSSIANS take a good many things seriously to which we pay comparatively little attention here. Some 99,610 have been expelled from the Bolshevik party, some because they are "immoral" others because they are friends of Trotzky.

If you are cheating the government in Russia, they stand you up and shoot you down. If you commit murder, they send you to jail for 10 years.

In this country, if you cheat the government, you often go to Europe on a yacht. You always do if you cheat on a big enough scale.

If you commit a murder, you are punished sometimes, not often. You would be surprised to know how few were punished for the last 9,000 murders committed in the United States.

OFFICIALS GIVE THEIR VIEWS OF CITY'S NEEDS

Two Hundred and Seven Teachers, Elective Officers Meet with Dr. Sawyer.

FIFTH SESSION OF SERIES

School, Health Heads Hold Spotlight as Marion's Problems Are Discussed.

Administration of the affairs of several city and county offices and the relation of officials to Marion as a whole were taken up by speakers at the fifth boost Marion meeting at White Oaks farm last night. The meeting is another of a series being conducted by Dr. Carl W. Sawyer. Two hundred and seven persons heard Dr. N. Sifritt, city and county health commissioner, County Superintendent C. B. Rayburn, City Superintendent George A. Bowman, County Auditor Earl Thomas and C. A. Klunk, official of the Marion Automobile club give talks.

"Marion Is Good Town"

"Marion is a good town—let's make it better," was the slogan left with the audience by Superintendent Bowman. "A community is and may be judged largely by its institutions, which usually are a cross-section of ourselves and our community. Our institutions and officials are what we really want them to be—no more, no less," he declared.

Making a plea for the maintainance of high standards of education despite the present shrinkage in business conditions and the urgent need of tax reductions, Superintendent Bowman declared that "boys and girls are not the ones on which to economize." Marion schools teach 6,290 pupils in 17 buildings with a staff of 200 educational employes.

County Superintendent C. B. Rayburn, speaking for the educators of Marion county schools, said "we are attempting to put on a program of education in the county commensurate with modern trends and demands. The schools make just as much or more effort to reach the pupils in the lowest one-third intelligence group as it does the highest one-third.

"Education is no longer a pouring-in process, but a drawing-out process to develop latent abilities of the pupil," Supt. Rayburn continued. "The great teacher is one who can inspire the child to do something."

Tells of Health Work

"Health is the biggest asset any community can have," Dr. N. Sifritt, city and county health commissioner declared in the opening statement of his short talk. He explained how the health department is chiefly concerned with contagious diseases, practically all of which are preventative.

A plea for still further cooperation and coordination of efforts of officials to continually improve

WASHINGTON, April 24—The government of Honduras informed its legation here today that the rebellion in that country has been suppressed.

By The Associated Press

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras, April 24—Government troops, victors in severe fighting in the San Pedro Sula area, today pursued a fleeing rebel army into the mountainous Honduran interior.

Advices here from the fiel staff today said all rebels had been cleared from the Puerto Cortes area and that it was not believed there was any further danger of an attack on San Pedro Sula, key to the railroad between Tegucigalpa and the coast.

The rebels made three attacks on Chamelecon, near San Pedro Sula, before taking to flight. There were many casualties, but no estimate of the dead and wounded was received here.

HALT PROBE

Suicide Is Verdict Expected in Death of Bucyrus Woman.

By United Press

BUCYRUS, O. April 24—Investigation of the death of Lucille Drew, 25, whose body was found in a well on a neighbor's farm, was halted today with a verdict of suicide expected from Coroner J. C. Mannhardt.

Sheriff Fred C. Vollmer announced he would proceed no further in the case and Prosecutor J. Dudley Sears said he was convinced the girl killed herself.

The girl's body was found in the well Monday, two days after she disappeared. The well is on the property of Frank Bair, 65, fast friend of the Drew family.

Hobby Credited with Saving Life of Actor

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES, Calif., April 24—For years Ralph Forbes, motion picture actor and husband of Ruth Chatterton, actress, has made a hobby of medicine and surgery. The hobby was credited today with having saved his life, Dr. William E. Branch, his physician said.

Forbes became ill while on a trip alone into the high Sierras. He diagnosed his complaint as appendicitis and sped into Los Angeles, where Dr. Branch ordered him to a hospital for an immediate operation.

The surgeon said the actor had every chance to recover.

TWO CHILDREN DIE IN BLAZE

Parents Expected To Die, Third Child Burned in Ohio Tragedy.

BLAME KEROSENE BLAST

Oil Used by Father To Start Fire Explodes, Igniting Home.

By The Associated Press

PORTSMOUTH, O., April 24—Two children burned to death, another was burned seriously and their parents were probably fatally burned by an explosion of kerosene in the home of Arthur Crabtree, 15 miles northwest of here on Duck Run, early today.

The dead were: Charles Crabtree, 8, and Harold Crabtree, 6.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Crabtree, 40 and 35, respectively, were so seriously burned that physicians said their deaths were expected at any time.

A six-months-old baby, Homer Frederick, was burned about the body and face, but some hope was held for his recovery.

The fire started in the Crabtree home by the explosion of a can of kerosene which Crabtree was using to speed up the building of a fire. Crabtree and his wife were covered with the flaming oil and he ran to a bedroom and seized the baby, whose clothes ignited from the father's.

Crabtree and his wife carried the baby to the home of a neighbor and rushed back, but the house was near destruction by that time. The bodies of Charles and Harold were found in the charred ruins a short time later.

FRUIT CROP STILL SAFE FROM FROST

Mercury Hits 35 Degrees for Low Here; Rain Predicted.

Marion county's fruit crop today had apparently survived the second cold snap of the week, following temperatures last night which reached a low mark of 35 here. Moderated temperatures today with promises of rain tonight and Saturday assured fruit growers that budding trees are at least temporarily safe.

The low mark of 35 degrees last night was three points above the low of Wednesday night, when the mercury dropped to the freezing point with little apparent damage to fruit trees. A year ago, the high temperature for the day was 45, the low 24.

Other sections of the state where more severe temperatures visited last night were in danger of losing a part of the apple, peach and cherry crops, according to International News Service reports.

"DR. KELLEY" SEEN, IS REPORT IN ST. LOUIS

Wealthy Physician Missing Since Monday Appears Today, Police Are Told.

AND THEN VANISHES

$100,000 Ransom Demand Said To Have Been Received by Family.

By United Press

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 24—Dr. Isaac D. Kelley, missing wealthy physician for whose ransom a demand of $100,000 was reported to have been made last night, was observed alone in a restaurant here early today, two acquaintances told police.

James Markedes, owner of the restaurant, and Paul Jinson, garage attendant, declared that "Dr. Kelley," wearing thin-rimmed glasses, appeared dazed and had a large bruise on his face.

The two said they hesitated to question "Kelley," and while Markedes telephoned police, the man walked out. Johnson said he tried to follow, "but lost him within a couple of blocks."

No Clues, Family Reports

Dr. Kelley's residence denied he had returned, or that any clue to his whereabouts had been received.

The physician has been missing since Monday night when he left on what he supposed to be a mission of mercy. Twelve hours later his abandoned motor car was found on a lonely road.

Two urgent letters were received at the Kelley home last night. It was reported that one was from Dr. Kelley and outlined a gang of kidnapers' demands for $100,000. Friends of the family denied this, but gave conflicting explanations for the communications.

Markedes' story added another mysterious touch to the disappearance of the physician.

The restaurant owner said he was at the cashier's desk when Dr. Kelly finished eating and came forward to pay his check.

"I am looking for Dr. Kelley," the man said.

"Aren't you Dr. Kelley?" Markedes asked him.

According to the restaurant proprietor, the man looked dazedly at him, then left the restaurant without replying.

The restaurant is little more than one block from the Beaumont building, where Kelley had his office. He often ate in the restaurant and serviced his automobile in the garage where Johnson worked.

Police, while inclined to be skeptical of the identification, admitted that Markedes and Johnson's description of the clothes worn by the dazed man, coincided with the wearing apparel of Kelley the night he disappeared, with the exception of the overcoat.

MARKS' HEARING TO CONTINUE TONIGHT

Chief's Side of Case To Be Presented Commission as Case Is Resumed.

Police Chief William E. Marks and his witnesses tonight will take the stand in the second session of a public hearing on an attempted ouster move brought against the chief by Mayor L. Don Jones. The hearing is scheduled to begin at 7:30 p. m. in the common pleas courtroom in the courthouse, with the civil service commission presiding.

Last Monday night, the commission heard testimony of eight witnesses called by Mayor Jones to substantiate general charges of inefficiency and incompetence made against Chief Marks. The hearing was postponed to allow Marks to prepare a defense.

Marks is represented by the law firm of Guthery, Strellitz & Guthery. W. P. Moloney is representing Mayor Jones.

STUDENTS HIGH IN EXAM

MARIAN MARKS JUNE SEEBACH

MISS MARIAN MARKS scored 176 points out of a possible 200 in a recent eighth grade examination sponsored by the state department of education in cooperation with the public schools of Ohio and state supported colleges. The score made by the girl is believed to be the highest in this section of the state. It is known to be the highest in Marion and Marion county and in four adjoining counties.

Miss June Seebach ran a close second for honors with a score of 175 points. The examination was given two weeks ago in the eighth grades of Vernon, Greenwood, Silver and Central buildings in English, mathematics, history and science. The pupils were given two hours to answer the 200 questions.

THE examination, which is given annually, checks the type and uniformity of work being given in the public schools of the state and tests the ability of pupils to follow specific directions.

Miss Marks is the daughter of Chief of Police and Mrs. W. E. Marks of 850 Woodrow avenue and Miss Seebach is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Seebach of 869 Henry street. Miss Marks will be 15 years old on the Fourth of July and Miss Seebach will be 14 on Aug. 10.

Mothers of both the girls say they are inveterate readers. They enjoy all the best literature of the day. Miss Marks has been on the school honor roll each six weeks period. Miss Seebach combines her book learning with culinary knowledge. She loves to cook and is adept at cake making, according to her mother and at making fancy desserts and dainty dishes for the family. Marian sings in the Central Glee club and plans the viola in the Central and Harding orchestras. She's a member of the Central Girl Reserves.

FESS, SHOUSE WAGE HEATED WORD WAR

G. O. P. Leader's "Deliberate Lie" Charge Brings Brisk Reply from Adversary.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 24—The assertion by Senator Fess that a statement credited to Chairman Shouse of the Democratic national executive committee was a "deliberate lie" drew a sharp reply from the latter.

Shouse denied the Fess accusation in the controversy around reputed Republican attacks on Chairman Raskob of the Democratic national committee, and retorted that the "short and ugly word is one that gentlemen are very careful about using."

The difference developed over a statement attributed to Shouse in his San Francisco speech on April 15. A newspaper quoted him as having said the Republican organization had bought for distribution 10,000,000 copies of an article written by Robert Cruise McManus attacking Raskob.

Offers $10,000 "Donation"

Chairman Fess of the Republican national committee, said that was not true. He offered to donate $10,000 "to Mr. Shouse's Democratic publicity bureau if he can prove that at any time the Republican national committee has either ordered or purchased or distributed any of the magazines or the article in the magazine to which he referred."

Shouse was so aroused over the Fess accusation that two statements in his name were issued yesterday from Democratic headquarters. He said the Republican national committee had published and distributed a pamphlet containing excerpts from a Scribner's magazine article last September entitled "Smear Hoover—Raskob's Order to His Subsidized Propagandists." That was what he said in San Francisco, he added.

"I do Mr. Fess the compliment to assume that even he knew enough about what was going on at the Republican national headquarters to have knowledge of the circulation of the pamphlet," Shouse said.

Refers to Last Election

He added that in last fall's election "a studied effort was made to emphasize John Raskob as an issue because of his membership in the Catholic church."

Referring to another newspaper quoting Fess last September as saying he had not known Raskob was a Catholic, Shous added:

"The good doctor may have told the truth. He may not have known that John Raskob is a member of the Catholic church, but, if not, he is no doubt the only man having any prominent connection with politics in America who did not know this and who had not known it from the time of Raskob's selection as chairman of the Democratic national committee in the summer of 1928."

SCHWAB PREDICTS 10 PROSPEROUS YEARS

Bethlehem Steel Leader Foresees Rapid Strides Forward in Next Decade.

By United Press

NEW YORK, April 24—Ten golden years of prosperity were predicted by Charles M. Schwab, chairman of Bethlehem Steel corporation, at the annual dinner last night of the American newspaper publishers' association.

"The next 10 years are going to see the rehabilitation and improvement of properties," he told more than 500 publishers from all parts of the United States and Canada. "Electrification will receive new impetus. Prices will become better stabilized. Home industries will gain. The automobile will reach new high levels. Advertising will make increased strides.

"In short, the American family will continue to enjoy a well-rounded progressive existence, conducive to business prosperity and progress."

Schwab declared one way of returning prosperity was by maintaining a high wage scale. He pointed out many firms maintained high wage standards even though obliged to adopt part time operation.

Visits Prison, Decides To Stay Around a Year

SANTA FE, N. M., April 24—Ed Sweet appeared at the state penitentiary yesterday and told Warden Swope he'd like to look the place over. He paid the 25 cents fee. "Pretty nice place," he remarked afterward. "Think I'll stay." Then he tipped the guard who showed him through a quarter.

"Stay?" echoed the warden.

"Sure." Sweet drew out commitment papers, reciting he had been sentenced to a year for stealing tires. His arrival without guard followed his decision to vacate an appeal to the supreme court.

PRESTON GETS FULL PARDON

Governor White Frees Prisoner Captured After 13 Years a Fugitive.

ESCAPED AT MANSFIELD

Recently Discovered as Highly Respected Business Man in St. Louis.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 24—Frank Preston, 30, of St. Louis, recently returned to Ohio reformatory at Mansfield after freedom for 13 years, will receive a full pardon from Governor White this afternoon, the governor announced today.

The pardon, Governor White said, is being issued on the recommendation of W. J. Kennedy, assistant state director of public welfare who was assigned to investigate the case.

Coming to White's Office

Governor White said Preston would be brought here at 4 p. m. from the reformatory to personally receive the pardon.

The chief executive said his investigation showed that Preston had become a law-abiding citizen during his years of freedom and that "I feel that he has made good and is respected by everyone who knows him."

Preston was returned to the reformatory from St. Louis 10 days ago, as an escaped prisoner. He walked away from the institution in 1918, while serving a term for robbery from South Zanesville, Ohio.

A trusty job had been given Preston as a reward for his bravery in saving several women who had been attacked by Negroes.

Established in Business

After escaping Preston went to St. Louis and married, later setting himself up in the restaurant business and for many years, according to investigators, had been a law abiding citizen.

Application for a pardon for Preston was made to the governor by Maurice Weil, St. Louis philanthropist, and by several St. Louis newspapers which became interested in the case.

Columbus Detectives Question Two Men Held at Mt. Gilead.

Special to The Star

MT. GILEAD, O., April 24—Three Columbus detectives yesterday afternoon questioned R. A. McFarland and Roy Eddie, alleged Columbus liquor hi-jackers held here in connection with the theft of a cargo of liquor and a gun battle south of here Wednesday.

No information was given out in regard to the questioning. Detectives were called here when newspaper clippings relating to the sentencing of Frank Maloney after his conviction in the murder of "Whitey" Hoyt Eakins on the Three C's highway near Wooster were found in McFarland's possession.

The men will be arraigned some time this afternoon.

TRUCK BLOCKS DRIVER'S VIEW OF SCHOOL BUS

Eight-Year-Old Son of Mr. and Mrs. John Abel Dies Instantly.

RETURNING FROM SCHOOL

Cleveland Man Asked To Return for Investigation After Accident.

John Abel Jr., 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Abel, was instantly killed when struck by an automobile in front of his home in Pleasant Acres, three miles south of here late yesterday afternoon.

The fatal accident occurred when the lad attempted to cross the road to his home after stepping from a school bus. The car that struck him was a Pierce-Arrow driven by T. M. Harrison, management engineer connected with the firm of Stevenson, Harrison & Jordon, 1568 Hanna building, Cleveland. Harrison has been ordered by authorities of the office of Sheriff C. C. Fye to return to Marion for an investigation of the accident.

Fails to See Bus

According to Harrison's story to officials here yesterday, he did not see the school bus which had stopped to discharge Abel because of a large moving van between his automobile and the bus. All three vehicles were moving north on Delaware pike.

The bus stopped on the east side of the road to discharge passengers, and the truck, in accordance with provisions of a state law, halted behind the bus. Failing to see the bus on account of the truck, Harrison pulled to the left of the road and attempted to pass the truck.

Harrison swerved his car sharply to the left to avoid striking the lad, who witnesses say was running. The front of the automobile struck the lad, throwing his body into the air.

The boy's left arm was broken above the elbow, and he suffered a broken shoulder, internal injuries to the head and chest, and bruises on his face and hands.

To Question Driver

Officials did not hold Harrison yesterday after the mishap. He was questioned briefly at police station, where he went voluntarily after the accident, and was not detained. He will be questioned probably Saturday morning with other witnesses to the accident.

Emerson Deitsch of Pleasant township was driver of the school bus.

The Abel lad was the fourth Marion county victim of traffic accidents this year, and the first of more than 3,000 pupils transported to the county's centralized schools every day to ever meet death in this manner.

The first victim of the year was Jane Lares, 8, of 299 East Center street who was run down by a motorist on North Main street Feb. 10. She died the following day from injuries sustained in the accident. Ralph Carr, 20, of Hepburn, was

VETOES BILL MAKING NON-SUPPORT FELONY

Governor Proves Self Friend of Husbands by Killing Proposed Law.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 24—Governor George White was on record today as a friend of husbands.

The governor yesterday used his veto to kill a measure requiring husbands to provide for wives in destitute circumstances because of the infirmities of age or illness, regardless of the circumstances. A penalty or imprisonment would have been provided.

"This proposed law," the governor pointed out in his veto message, "makes a criminal of a husband whose wife has deserted him and left for parts unknown. The husband, although entirely innocent of any wrong doing and perfectly willing to provide the necessary care, food and clothing in his own domicile, might be branded as a felon."

"The proposed law might be used as an instrument of oppression and in its practical application result in a form of imprisonment for debt, harking back to the discredited practices of long ago."

The present alimony law, in civil court proceedings, furnishes adequate relief, the governor believes.

The governor yesterday vetoed two of ten bills he considered, bringing to 47 the number approved and nine the total vetoed.

"June Bride" Blushes, Mother Weeps as Knot Is Tied in 'Womanless Wedding'

BY HALLIE HOUCK

THE "Womanless Wedding," staged by a cast of local men got more laughs a minute at the Steam Shovel gymnasium last night than any press-agented comedy that has come to Marion in months.

Everyone enjoys a masquerade, especially when men are dressed as women, and some of the men last night earned laughs that would make Olsen and Johnson weep with envy.

What-So-Ever circle of King's Daughters is sponsoring the show for the benefit of its children's bed at City hospital. More than 500 persons witnessed the affair last night, and it will be repeated tonight at 8:15.

Eighty of Marion's leading business and professional men are giving two nights of their time to parading in satins, tulle, wigs and decolette gowns to boost the King's Daughters charity work. The effect is screamingly funny.

There is no plot to the so-called play—Nothing but laughs and plenty of them, interspersed with songs and dances. The wedding was staged elaborately. W. C. Boyd, a butler, announces the guests as they arrive. The audience last night laughed to the point of hysteria as the "guests" paraded down the aisle to the stage where the wedding was performed. Everyone in the audience knew some members of the cast and a great many were acquainted with all of them.

Rev. James M. Fisher, director of the Lee Street Presbyterian church, in swaddling clothes and wheeled in a baby buggy, howled lustily as he was pushed to the stage by his Negro Mammy, Harry Albrecht. Charles Weil, a seductive Theda Bara, brought down the house by stopping in his "snake walk" down the aisle to plant a kiss on the cheek of Rev. H. L. Olewiler, pastor of First Presbyterian church, who was sitting in the audience.

The best-drawn characterization was that of E. Paul Bachman as Charlie Chaplin. Derby, cane, ill-fitting clothes and mincing walk, he was a double to a T. Henry True presented a remarkable impersonation of King Alfonso of Spain.

Jimmy Russo and Edgar Castello cut outlandish capers as the two bad little brothers, picking on the twin sisters.

DATE SET FOR VOTE IN SPAIN

Electorate Will Decide June 21 Whether Republic Is To Continue.

By International News Service.

MADRID, April 24—The Spanish electorate will go to the polls on June 21 to choose its future regime, it was announced today by Provisional President Alcala Zamora.

The general elections, in addition to electing a constituent cortes, will determine once and for all whether Spain remains a republic or reverts to a monarchy. The recent overwhelming republican victory at the municipal balloting forced King Alfonso XIII from the throne, but he refused to abdicate until the people of Spain have definitely voted a republic.

In announcing the date of elections, President Zamora assured the public that the provisional government "is absolutely determined to defend the republic to the limit of its powers," but emphasized that it regards itself "merely as the trustee of the republic for 68 days."

Although Alfonso, now in London, and other royalists have hopes that the national elections will restore the monarchy, it was generally believed here that returns would give a sweeping republican victory.

Junk Firm Offers Y. & O. Line to East Liverpool Industrialists.

By The Associated Press

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., April 24—The 38-mile Youngstown and Ohio railroad, forced into bankruptcy and suspension by economic conditions, today had a chance for a new lease of life.

Briggs & Turvias, Inc., of Chicago, who purchased the one time $2,000,000 road at a receivership sale for $125,000 recently, announced through their associates, A. P. Kulka and I. Koch, of Alliance, that the line would be offered to East Liverpool and Columbiana county industrialists. The offer was made on a one-year trial basis at a price of $200,000, with six per cent interest in the interim.

Prospective purchasers said they would announce their decision Monday. The road suspended operations at midnight and will be junked unless sold the second time.

health conditions was made by Dr Sifritt. Educational work along this line is now being done through the schools where the children learn the seriousness of disease.

Dr. Sifritt told how the city health nurses recently prevented what might soon have developed into an epidemic of scarlet fever. By detecting the case in its early stages and isolating all contacts, spread of the disease was prevented. That is a sample of health department work the public seldom hears anything about.

If any thing could and should be done to better Marion generally, it is a lessening of the tax rate on real estate, County Auditor Earl E. Thomas declared last night.

"Tax revenue should not be decreased, but real estate is bearing an unjust tax burden." Officials are known as the taxspenders of the people, and should do this task wisely and conservatively, he declared.

Mayor Jones Speaks

Marion is in good condition. Much more can be done in the way of bringing conventions here, and in attempting to bring industries and trunk line highways to Marion, C. A. Klunk said last night, after explaining the operation of the Marion Automobile club, which he represented.

"Marion needs two things—more Dr. Sawyers and a good cleaning up," Mayor L. Don Jones declared in the concluding speech of the meeting. Plans are being made for a citywide cleanup beginning May 4 to groom Marion for one of the greatest events in its recent history, the dedication of Harding Memorial.

Figures showing the steady increase in the volume of business in Marion postoffice as an indication of Marion's steady growth were read by French Crow, postmaster.

In remarks between speeches, Dr. Sawyer, chairman of the civic committee of 32 sponsoring the entire movement, and chairman of the meeting last night, declared one of the greatest faults with Marionites is their fault-finding with public officials.

"We elect these officials, but instead of giving them the cooperation they deserve, we too often knock them," he said. He also reiterated his statement of previous meetings that the city needs a better understanding within its own limits and with outside cities, more cooperation and coordination of effort.

Plans for a potluck dinner and work meeting May 7 with Misses Mildred and Pauline Ruhl of 288 Lafayette street, were made at a meeting of Good Cheer circle of King's Daughters last night with Miss Zelma Schweinfurth of 194 South Grand avenue. Miss Della Larson presided for a business meeting. Miss Schweinfurth led the devotions. Two poems, "Life Is So Short" and "At Close of Day" were read by Miss Elizabeth Pace. Following the program, sewing was done for City hospital. A social hour was enjoyed and refreshments were served by the hostesses. Miss Lois Weaver was a guest of the circle.

DEATH AWAITED BY MISSIONARY

Rev. Ralph Thurber in Hospital at Cleveland Stricken by Strange Ailment.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, O., April 24—Resigned to die within a few weeks, Rev. Ralph Thurber, 37, for years a missionary in Korea, today was in City hospital suffering from distomiasis, a malignant disease of the Orient which has been observed in the United States but four or five times.

Mr. Thurber's own diagnosis of his illness was confirmed last night. Hospital authorities admitted the misionary, who said he had seen more than 500 cases of it in his 10 years in the Orient, probably knew more about it than themselves.

Certain kinds of Oriental fishes carry the parasite which causes the disease, physicians said. It is contracted through the intestinal tract and the parasites are carried to the liver, which they gradually decompose. The disease is not transmitted if ordinary precautions are taken.

An operation performed in Shanghai, China, five years ago cured one attack of the disease, Rev. Thurber said, but in cases such as his at present the patient rarely lives.

The missionary, who represented the Christian Missionary and Alliance church, became ill Friday night enroute to Detroit after spending part of the furlough with his mother in Philadelphia.

Urges Caution

At a meeting of all public employes working or living in Marion, held at White Oaks farm last night in a boost Marion movement, County Superintendent C. B. Rayburn expressed his distress over the accident, and urged more caution on the part of motorists. He asked the cooperation of C. A. Klunk, president of the Marion Automobile Club, in protecting the lives of children.

"The transportation," Superintendent Rayburn said, "of more than 3,000 children by 100 buses to the 13 centralized and consolidated schools of the county has been one of my chief concerns as county superintendent. Perhaps we may derive some slight consolation from the fact that this is our first death of a school child on the road of the county.

"I have fought this thing hard, yet there are still some persons who pass school buses when they are receiving or discharging children."

Born in Marion

John Churchill Abel was born Sept. 5, 1922, in Marion, the son of John Avery Abel, native of Prospect, and Mrs. Florida Churchill Abel, a native of Salamanca, N. Y. The lad's father is secretary of Buckeye Aerie, No. 337, Fraternal Order of Eagles, a past president of the state organization, and at present a grand trustee of the order.

The boy was a member of Epworth M. E. church. Besides his parents he leaves a sister, Mrs. James Rein of Upper Sandusky.

Funeral services will be held Monday at 1:30 p. m. at the home in Pleasant Acres and at 2 p. m. at Epworth church. Dr. C. E. Turley, pastor, will officiate. Interment will be made in Marion cemetery. The body will be removed from the W. C. Boyd funeral home on South Main street late this afternoon and may be viewed at the parents' home until funeral time.

HONOR ARRIVAL OF ENGLISH COLONISTS

President, Mrs. Hoover To Take Part in Celebration of Historical Event.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 24—President Hoover tomorrow will turn southward to take part in the celebration of an anniversary of one of the country's important historical events.

He will join Sunday in a pilgrimage to Cape Henry, Virginia, where 324 years ago English colonists landed and stopped for a few days before journeying to Jamestown and establishing the first permanent English colony in America.

The chief executive, Mrs. Hoover and a small party will go from Washington to Little Creek inlet, about five miles from the cape, in an inspection boat belonging to the department of commerce.

After attending church service the party will return to the inlet and embark for the return voyage to Washington.

Present plans call for the departure from Washington about midnight Saturday. It will take about 18 hours for the trip, part of which will be in open waters of Chesapeake bay.

SIXTY DIE IN BLAST

By International News Service

LONDON, April 24—Sixty Chinese were killed today when time bombs destroyed two steam launches at Canton, according to messages from there. Dispatches said the bombs were placed by bandits when the ship owners refused to pay "protection" fees.

STRANGER THAN MOVIE THRILLER

The uncovering of his undercover activities as an agent of the federal government resulted in Lawrence L. Baldesarell being put on the spot by gangsters at Denver, Col. Posing as a Chicago gunman, he wormed his way into the confidence of the most dangerous mob in town, and the work he did in this precarious position for six months helped to break up the gang. Baldesarell is shown in his hospital cot recovering from the effects of his "ride," and marveling at the havoc the leaden "moths" have wrought in his coat.

MOTORISTS PROTEST LICENSE PROPOSAL

Suggested Changing of Car Taxing System Meets with Disapproval.

By United Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 24—Vigorous protests from automobile clubs and bus and truck owners showered down on the special joint tax committee of the legislature when the first hearing on the proposed license tag fee bill was held at a senate smoker.

This bill, the first tentative draft of which has just been printed, would make weight rather than horsepower the basis of computing the fee. In some instances it would triple the present license fees, especially on the heavier and higher priced cars.

Not only is this system unfair and unpractical, opponents of the bill contended, but it practically would disrupt the system now in force for the collecting of the license tax and the issuance of the license tags, they said.

Added to those protests was that of Chalmers R. Wilson, state commissioner of motor vehicles, under whose supervision the license tax is collected. He presented a letter in which he declared he had not approved the bill or indorsed the weight system of computing the fee.

On the contrary, he said, "I am of the opinion that the plan is impracticable and unfair."

SIAM RULERS IN N. Y.

King and Queen in Seclusion at Whitelaw Reid Estate.

By International News Service

NEW YORK, April 24—King Prajadhipok and Queen Rambai Barni of Siam were in seclusion today at Ophir hill, the Whitelaw Reid estate at Purchase, following a day of shopping and sightseeing in New York. They indicated they would spend the next few days quietly at the beautiful Reid estate, declining many invitations.

The king yesterday underwent a short examination and treatment of his eye, the weakened condition of which caused him to visit the United States, while the queen bought gowns and hats.

An elaborate court headquarters has been established at Ophir hill and as the king is the absolute ruler of Siam he will continue to make all decisions on government matters. Arrangements have been perfected for him to keep in constant touch with Siam through cable and telephone.

CRASH KILLS FIVE

Auto Strikes Side of Moving Freight Train in Illinois.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, April 24—Five men were killed early today at Antioch, Ill., when their automobile struck a freight train with such force that five cars were derailed.

The dead are are Herrick C. Harrington, 21, a graduate of Marquette university; Daniel Wigham, 24; George H. Eaton, 24; Gus Gustafson, 22; and Edgar Lindroth, 21, a bank clerk. Eaton is a stepson of the late county coroner.

The deaths brought to 10 the number killed in automobile crossing accidents in the Chicago area within 24 hours.

MEDAL CONTEST FEATURES MEET

Caledonia W. C. T. U. Sponsors Institute; Marion Pastors Speak.

Special to The Star

CALEDONIA, April 24—The local W. C. T. U. institute was held Thursday afternoon and evening at the Church of Christ. The afternoon session was opened with devotionals conducted by Mrs. Ella Timson. A short business meeting in charge of the president was followed by a vocal duet by Mrs. Ira Lee and Mrs. L. C. Sickel. Mrs. Mary Jennings, county W. C. T. U. president, and Miss Zoa Davis of Marion, gave reports of the mid-year institute held in Columbus last week.

Talks were given by Rev. G. G. Canfield, pastor of the First Church of the Brethren, Marion, and Rev. C. V. Roop, pastor of the United Brethren church, Marion. Rev. Canfield also contributed two vocal selections accompanied by Mrs. Ernest McKinstry. Following the benediction by Rev. M. L. Buckley lunch was served in the church basement for which covers were laid for 35.

Evening Session

The evening session opened with a song by the congregation, "America the Beautiful." Devotionals were conducted by Rev. W. P. Michel. Music was furnished by a saxophone sextet, after which Rev. F. W. Haas of Cardington, gave the address. A silver medal contest was then held. Following were the contestants and their subjects: No. 1, Lila Mae Shaw, "Ringing in Better Times"; No. 2, Lola Rorick, "The High Cost of Medical Alcohol"; No. 3, Miriam Gray, "Rastus' last Smoke"; No. 4, Mary Rose, "Her Mother's Song"; No. 5, Harry Alexander, "Ben and Pat, Co-workers." Mary Rose was awarded the medal. The judges were G. W. Cox, Miss Dorothy Westfall and Miss Hope Underwood. W. A. Tritchler contributed a saxophone solo accompanied at the piano by Miss Martha Monnett, after which Rev. Buckley gave a short talk and the institute was closed with the benediction by Rev. E. M. Druly.

GIRL, 11, MAN, 40, MARRIED

The marriage in Council Bluffs, Iowa, of Rosetta Coping, 11-year-old grammar school girl, to Albert Bryan, 29 years her senior, was investigated by juvenile authorities. The girl's mother was married at a double wedding with her daughter, mother and daughter being bridesmaids to each other.

STATE INQUIRY BOARD BUSY

Senate Group Indicates Highway Department May Be Reorganized.

By International News Service

COLUMBUS, O., April 24—"Complete reorganization" of the state highway department was threatened today by a state senate investigating committee.

Elimination of "present evils" was declared by members of the committee investigating rumored graft and collusion in the department to be the object of its probe.

Declining to reveal the "evils," Chairman David Lorbach, Democrat of Cincinnati, announced that executive sessions of the committee will continue for several weeks before public hearings will be held.

Senator Lorbach announced the aim of the investigation at the conclusion of the committee's second meeting. He indicated that other members agree with him that a shakeup in the structure of the organization of the department is imperative.

All charges and suspicions of graft in highway departments of the last decade will be publicly aired before the final report is returned late in December, Lorbach said.

Public hearings will begin shortly after the legislature completes its taxation session which is expected to be some time in June, Lorbach announced.

CANNON REFUSES TO SUBMIT TO INQUIRY

Nye Investigation Committee Faces Crisis as Bishop Defies Probe.

By International News Service

WASHINGTON, April 24—After investigating a score of senatorial campaigns without interference, the Nye campaign fund committee today faced a crisis as it met to consider the defiance of Bishop James Cannon, Jr., Anti-Saloon league and Methodist Episcopal church official.

The bishop, called to explain his campaign activities in 1928, told the committee he was too ill to undergo the rigors of an examination, although his health enabled him to preach and lecture. He also defied the committee's right to investigate his private affairs, charging its proposed inquiry was unconstitutional.

The committee, of which Senator Nye, Republican of North Dakota, is chairman, investigated a score of senatorial campaigns last year without having its authority challenged.

By The Associated Press

BRISTOL, Va., April 24—The Herald Courier said today that it had been advised a petition requesting the resignation of James Cannon Jr., as bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, was being circulated among the Methodist laymen.

Its informant, "a leading Methodist layman," the paper said, had revealed that the petition would protest the action of 12 elders who recently passed on Bishop Cannon's character and would urge the college of bishops not to elect him president.

"SOUL AND SPIRIT" DEFINITIONS SOUGHT

Psychologists Unable To Give Meaning. Convention Speakers Say.

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE, Associated Press Science Editor.

PHILADELPHIA, April 24—Scientists cast technical terms aside and discussed the meaning of "soul" and "spirit" at the first round table meeting of the American Philosophical society here.

"In your scientific papers you use the word soul and spirit," said Dr. Cyrus Adler of Dropsie college, Philadelphia. "Can you explain what you mean by them? If not you shouldn't use them."

Dr. Chester Conklin of Princeton university, presiding at the round table, said:

"Frequently I have questioned psychologists as to the meaning of soul, but I have not been able to get anything definite. Machines give us the possibility of extending our personalities farther in time and space, but I suspect that the human being remains much as he was in the old Adam stage."

Two Students Dead in Crash Near Mansfield

By The Associated Press

MANSFIELD, O., April 24—Harold Heyser, 17, Lexington, O., high school student, died here today of injuries received in an automobile accident last night in which one of his three companions, Charles Voltz, 17, was killed. The other passengers were not seriously hurt.

The accident occurred, officials said, when a tire on their automobile blew out near Lexington and the car went into a ditch.

Examiner Calls for Claims Against Bank

A call for all pass books, claims and certificates of deposit was made today by state banking officials who are now liquidating the finances of the Marion Savings bank.

All claims of every nature must be presented at the bank before June 15, C. W. Miller of the state banking department announced today. Persons renting safety deposit boxes are urged to examine their boxes before that date.

ANOTHER MYSTERY

Slaying of Woman Third To Puzzle San Diego Authorities.

By The Associated Press

SAN DIEGO, Calif., April 24—Peace officers, worn by their efforts to solve the gruesome slayings of Virginia Brooks, 11-year-old school girl, and Louise Teuber, 17, were confronted by a third mystery killing here today.

The body of Mrs. W. D. Bibbens, 35, was discovered in her apartment last night. Officers were unable to determine immediately whether she had been strangled or her throat cut. A newspaper dated April 16 found in the room indicated the appproximate time of death.

Mrs. Bibbens usually wore many jewels and was a follower of the Agua Caliente races. The apartment had been ransacked and gave evidence of a violent struggle.

The killing came just five days after Miss Teuber's body was found dangling from a tree near here. Two state criminologists then were still here aiding police and sheriff's officers in their attempt to solve the slaying of Virginia Brooks, whose body was found in a gunnysack on Camp Kearney Mesa, March 11.

PONTIFF DEDICATES NEW CHURCH SCHOOL

Pope Makes Second Trip from Vatican City Since Lateran Treaty.

By United Press

ROME, April 24—Pope Pius XI, wearing a white cassock, red hat and red mantle, emerged from the Vatican today and personally dedicated the new college of the Propaganda Fide, which was built with funds raised among American Catholics.

It was the second time the pope had left the Vatican since signing of the Lateran treaty which ended the 60-year "imprisonment" of the head of the Catholic church.

The papal automobile, with curtains drawn, was hardly noticed by persons on the streets of Rome as it left Vatican City at 10:58 a. m. for the short trip to the new college on the slopes of Jeniculum hill. Two other automobiles containing prelates and officials followed.

George William, Cardinal Mundelein, archbishop of Chicago, greeted the pope at the college. Students assembled for the ceremony cheered.

REGISTER DONAHUE DEATH AS SUICIDE

Physician of Woolworth Son-in-Law Takes Exceptions to Official Record.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 24 — The death of James Paul Donahue, son-in-law of the late Frank W. Woolworth, was entered in official records today as having been caused by poison taken "with suicidal intent."

But Mr. Donahue's physician, Dr. Henry Craig Fleming, ascribed death to "uremia, probably induced by mercurial poisoning," and he added: "there is absolutely no evidence whatsoever that the poison was taken with suicidal intent."

Mr. Donahue, 44, died yesterday after having been ill since Sunday. Members of the medical examiner's staff said he lunched Sunday at his apartment with his son, Woolworth Donahue, and two friends, Milton D. Doyle and Gordon Sarre.

After lunch they played cards for a time. About 4:30 M., Donahue went to the lower floor of the apartment and Woolworth Donahue, who had become apprehensive, followed. The medical examiners said Mr. Donahue locked himself in a room and, when he finally emerged, remarked, "Well, I've done it." Mr. Sarre went to the bathroom and found an uncorked blue bottle containing poison tablets.

Requiem mass will be celebrated tomorrow in St. Ignatius church.

Mr. Donahue, a stock broker, married Jessie Woolworth, daughter of the founder of the five-and-ten-cent store chain, in 1912. Upon her father's death she obtained a third share in the estate and is one of the wealthiest women in New York. The Woolworth building alone sold for $11,000,000 after his death.

Will Teach Hygiene to State's Girl Prisoners

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 24—State Welfare Director John McSweeney today accepted a proposal of Fred E. Spaulding, general field representative of the American Red Cross, for providing first aid and home hygiene instruction to inmates of the Marysville reformatory for women and the Delaware Girls' industrial school.

Spaulding offered the services of the Red Cross without charge to the state for teaching the inmates. Later the instruction will be extended to the men's institutions at Mansfield, Lancaster and Columbus.

Immediate Delivery of Marriage Licenses in Ohio Ends in July

By United Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 24—Beginning the latter part of July persons wishing to get married in Ohio will have to make application for their marriage licenses at least five days in advance of their wedding date.

Under the Aumend act, signed last night by Governor White and operative as law in 90 days, applications for marriage licenses must be made not less than five days nor more than 30 days before the license can be issued.

The five-day delay can be waived, however, by probate judges, if in their judgment circumstances warrant doing so.

The governor also approved the Roberts bill, providing that public authorities in awarding contracts for public improvements, may stipulate that the wages paid workmen on such projects shall be not less than the prevailing wage scale in the community.

SECKEL CASE UP

Fourth District Court of Appeals To Review Action.

Prosecutor R. M. Wilhelm and Attorney W. P. Moloney today were to present to the fourth district court of appeals at Chillicothe the case of Charles Seckel against the state of Ohio.

Seckel is appealing his conviction in common pleas court here for the alleged theft of money from Mrs. Amanda Smith at Caledonia. The case was scheduled to be heard when the court of appeals convened here several days ago, but was postponed because of the absence of one of the judges. Judges R. J. Mauck of Gallipolis, William H. Middleton of Waverly, and Peter J. Blosser of Chillicothe are expected to consider the Seckel case today. Seckel is represented by W. P. Moloney, while Prosecutor Wilhelm will represent the state.

Art Pieces Once Owned by Local Woman's Ancestors

Six pieces of art in the Cleveland Museum of Art are of especial interest to Mrs. Jonas Concklin of 114 North State street. They are from a $5,000,000 collection of the famous Guelph treasure exhibited in Cleveland last year, and were the property of her ancestors. Queen Victoria was of the Guelph family of Germany.

Mrs. Concklin, whose family name is Phelps, is a direct descendant of the Guelphs in Germany, the Welfs in Wales and England the Phelps in England and America. The name is spelled and pronounced differently in the three branches of the family ancestry.

William Phelps, emigrant son of James Phelps in England, came to this country in 1630 in the church ship, "Mary and John." He assisted to make the borderline of Boston town and was a member of the first legislature. In 1805 later members of the family emigrated from Connecticut to Franklin county in Ohio. Mrs. Concklin came to Marion to teach school in 1871 and five years later, married here and established a home.

The Guelph treasure is the finest collection of medieval ecclesiastical art in existence and was assembled in Germany by the House of Guelphs

Chief among the treasures is the reliquary in the form of a Byzantine church which is fashioned of oak covered with champleve enamel against which are placed numerous figures carved of walrus ivory. The reliquary in 1482 contained the skull of St. Gregory which disappeared nearly 300 years ago. The temple reliquary was built under the direction of Duke Henry the Lion, born in 1129, the most famous of the House of Guelph, who, returning from the Crusades, brought many relics, the bones of saints from the Holy Lands and the gifts of eastern emperors.

Cleveland was one of the four cities of the world to exhibit the collection as a whole. New York City, Frankfurt Am Main and Berlin, Germany were the other three. The six pieces now in the Cleveland museum were purchased by the director who was present when the treasure was placed on sale in Frankfort, Germany.

AFTER M. E. MEET

Columbus Has Good Prospects of Getting General Conference.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 24—Probability that Columbus may be host to the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church in May, 1932, was strengthened when Dr. Isaac E. Miller, superintendent of the Columbus district, received word from Cleveland that that city had withdrawn its invitation in favor of Columbus.

Atlantic City also is bidding for the gathering, but Dr. Miller said Columbus' central location probably would be a factor in bringing the conference here. Cleveland also has indicated it will cooperate in efforts to bring the meeting here, Dr. Miller said.

The decision will be made by the book committee which will meet in Cincinnati May 1. The conference will last throughout the month of May, 1932.

G. O. P. Faces Neat Task in Naming Speakership Choice to Oppose Garner

Hard-Hitting Texas Man Has Predominant Lead with Democrats.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON—Speakership of the house—considered by many the second highest elective office—will be an absorbing subject in the finely - balanced 72nd congress.

JOHN N. GARNER

Before the death of Nicholas Longworth it was primarily a question of which party would organize the house Now, to that has been added the question of what man will be chosen from a number of possible aspirants to wear the speaker's mantle.

Among the Democrats the peppery, hard-hitting Jack Garner of Texas, leader of his party in the house, stands out preeminently. It is generally conceded that should the Democrats organize in the forthcoming congress he is the most likely man for the post.

In the Republican ranks, however, the question of choice is more difficult. A dozen or more men are mentioned in discussions centering around Longworth's successor.

Prominent among them are Col. John Tilson of Connecticut, majority floor leader. Bertrand Snell of New York, chairman of the rules committee, is another. There are others, among them Purnell of Indiana or farm relief fame, Mapes of Michigan and Ramseyer of Iowa, the latter two recognized experts on house rules.

Tilson and Snell, with the late Speaker Longworth, constituted an all-powerful group. It was largely because of this trio that the last house was referred to as one of the most efficient organizations in the history of congress.

Tilson, tall, with a closely-cropped mustache and a ready smile, enjoys great personal popularity in the house. He was a lieutenant-colonel in the Spanish American war, and commanded the second Connecticut infantry on the Mexican border in 1916. An expert parliamentarian, he is admired and respected as Republican leader

Snell is almost an opposite type. Forceful, resourceful under fire, relentless when trying to press legislation through, he is perhaps generally considered more "on the inside" of things than Tilson. As chairman of the rules committee, his task is difficult, but he seems to mind it not at all.

JOHN Q. TILSON

Purnell, bold, young, heavy-set, was a key man in passage of legislation creating the federal farm board. Agriculture is his forte. He constantly battles in behalf of the farmer. He is likable,

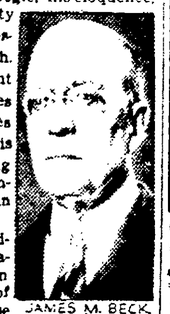
Dozen or More Mentioned as Prospects in Ranks of Republicans.

a good mixer and a hard worker.

Mapes is a familiar figure in the house, where he is frequently called on to preside He is versed in the house rules makes a good presiding officer. Kindly, cordial and courteous, he works hard.

Ramseyer is another recognized parliamentarian in the house He knows the rules of the house thoroughly. Few challenge his interpretation of them. A member of the progressive bloc, he does not carry his progressiveness to the point of being radical.

Then there is Beck of Pennsylvania. He is famed among his colleagues for his logic, his eloquence, and his ability to argue a question to a finish. He holds eight honorary degrees from universities and colleges, is an outstanding authority on constitutional law, an author of note.



JAMES M. BECK

Allen Treadway of Massachusetts, big in stature, loud of voice and intense in his views on public questions, is prominent among the old guard Republicans and always a staunch supporter of administration programs.

Homer Hoch of Kansas, co-author of the Hoch-Smith act authorizing investigations of rail rates, deeply interested in agriculture, also enters the picture. His personality has won him many friends in the house.

George Scott Graham, 80-year-old chairman of the judiciary committee, achieved prominence last year when his committee held open hearings on the question of prohibition. In 1919 he headed the famous "smelling committee" which "sniffed" war expenditures.

COURT RULES FOR LA RUE PLAINTIFF

Scofield Makes Finding Against State Industrial Commission.

Finding for the plaintiff in the action of Hazel Haynes against the State Industrial commission has been made in common pleas court by Judge George Scofield.

The action in which the finding was made is an appeal from the commission which disallowed a claim for $6570.08 filed by Mrs. Haynes for the death Sept. 23, 1927 of her husband, Arnold Haynes, whose death, according to her charges followed the inhaling of fumes from a chemical compound he was using while working at the Claridon school house. He was an employe of the LaRue Construction Co., at the time.

A transcription of the finding of the local court probably will be forwarded immediately to the commission to fix the amount to be paid on the claim. The law firm of Mouser, Young, Mouser & Wiant represented Mrs. Haynes.

Bleaching Is Safest Method for Banishing Annoying Freckles

BY JOSEPHINE HUDDLESTON

A NUMBER of letters have reached me recently asking about freckles and in looking back through my files, I find that it has been some time since I have written on this important subject

First of all there isn't an infallible remedy for removing freckles. They can be bleached out and so made less noticeable but they will return, regardless of the strength of the bleach used for eliminating them

Freckles are a matter of light upon pigment Pigment being the coloring agent in the skin and it is found in minute cells just under the skin. When these pigment cells are evenly distributed we have a clear complexion whether it be light medium or dark in tone. When brown spotches or freckles appear it means that a small collection of these pigment cells are closer together than might be considered normal

Bleaching Preparations

Strong rays of light bring these pigment cells to the surface when the skin is thin and fine We rarely find the medium or dark complexioned girl with noticeable freckles, simply because her skin is of stronger texture even though it be fine and smooth. Blondes, however, have thinner skins, which permit the light rays to penetrate and develop the pigment cells into noticeable freckles of brown upon the outer layer of skin. These flecks of brown are freckles. Sometimes they are mere pin-points of color at others they are much larger, the size of the freckles depending upon the size of the collection of pigment cells at those spots

What we can do to eliminate them is use a bleaching preparation until the skin is clear. The first time we expose ourselves to intense light rays, however, the brown flecks flood the surface of the skin again Once more the only remedy is to resort to bleaching.

Among the preparations we have for bleaching freckles are found lemon juice, buttermilk, peroxide, peroxide and ammonia and the many already prepared bleaches offered by manufacturers of cosmetics.

Pure lemon juice is the mildest of these bleaching agents and if used consistently will work However, it's a matter of applying the lemon juice several times each day, at least night and morning, and this should be done for a week or so before expecting results The same is true with buttermilk, although either of these two mild preparations are the safest and best to use, for, although their action is mild and so slow there need be no fear of injuring the skin

Peroxide frequently bleaches the freckles more quickly than lemon juice and buttermilk and it may be substituted without harm. Its bleaching action is stronger and quicker than lemon juice and buttermilk and for this reason care should be exercised in using it. Not that it is harmful in the least but because it may leave white spots, which are whiter than the general coloring of the skin necessitating the entire bleaching of the face and throat. Other than that it is safe and sane.

Peroxide and ammonia, sometimes used in cases where the freckles are of long standing and are unusually stubborn, is reliable as a bleach, but extreme caution should be used in applying this preparation to the face. To two tablespoonfuls of water add an equal amount of peroxide and three drops of household ammonia Beat the mixture until it is cloudy and then it is ready for use Be very careful, however, not to apply peroxide and ammonia too close to the eyes for the ammonia—even the fumes—is apt to prove distressing

Full directions for using prepared bleaches comes with each package and should be followed to the smallest detail if you are to gain satisfactory results.

CHAPTER 5

A Hand or a Life

The stranger whom Nora had thought about all morning in terms of pain and delight was gone, in his place was just a boy

She stood beside Nicholas and saw that he winced as he unwound the bandage that he had so clumsily wrapped about the hand with its ugly gash below thumb.

The hand was now so swollen that even the wrist was puffed She looked at his flushed and feverish face in alarm

"Why haven't you seen a doctor?"

She asked Where's Julian?"

"He's been out all morning."

Now she was frankly frightened but she told him to promise her to stay where he was then as though she were in on hurry she left the room But once outside the blue gate she flew down the hill.

She kept seeing Nicholas' eyes that had followed her like an old dog's they'd had at home, who had looked at her with just such humble suffering. The ugly inflammation of the hand was serious and she must get a doctor at once

She ran on, remembering she had noticed a doctor's sign not far down the hill. But beneath her fright was a sense of triumph. He had not been able to leave after all He was still at the villa . . . and he was going home . . . perhaps if one wanted a thing enough there was a way of getting it.

If only the doctor would be in! She found him smoking a cigarette in his garden, with an air of infinite leisure, amused at that young thing who came rushing in to him, demanding that he should come at once At once' But as he mounted the hill beside her, refusing to go any faster than his fat legs would carry him easily, he grew interested when he heard the patient was a man ,a young man and a painter.

He looked shrewdly at her face, wondering if this man were her lover These cold impassive English people—for any Anglo-Saxon was English—sometimes had passions he thought, as he followed her in through the gate in the wall.

Some half hour later he came down from Nicholas Thayer's room to find Nora sitting on the bottom step of the stairs, like a small watch dog.

"How is his hand?" she asked trying to hide her terrible anxiety.

He shrugged "He should have called me sooner."

There was something almost cruel in his indifference Nora pressed him.

"Please tell me.

"What can I say?"

He made the gesture of cutting off the right hand at the wrist.

She shuddered.

"You can't! He's a painter!

"Life is like that."

Nora flung out her hands toward him as though she would shake him out of his imperturbability.

"You must do something!"

"He is unreasonable. He will not listen to me. He is a little mad, I think," he said, tapping his temple

She would do anything to help she told him passionately She had forgotten everything but the artist and his future, the man who had painted the old peasant woman For had it not been she who had asked him to unfasten the shutter? But she was cool and quiet as she listened to the instructions that Dr Madroni gave her.

Nora could not encompass such a tragedy as that which would result if the doctor's fears concerning Nicholas' hand proved justified In that event, she felt herself as the blind means of his fate. Why had she let him open the jammed shutter!

When the doctor had gone she knocked at Nicholas' door and went in. His bed was unmade and his room was in a state of seething disorder. He was walking the floor and groaning aloud

"This damn thing'" he exploded "Look what it's doing to me I've got to get out of here and get to work I can't do a thing until this is better."

She got hot water, tore up an old silk slip for bandages, made a poultice, and returned to set his room in order. He could not eat a thing he told her; but she made a pot of tea for him and watched him drink it.

He gave up his restless walking after a time and flung himself down on the bed

"Does it feel any better?" she could not help asking him

"For God's sake don't ask me that!"

He turned over and lay on his face. After a while he asked, "Did the doctor say anything to you—"

"Nothing," she said, lifting clear eyes to his

All through the afternoon she stayed with him, changing the poultices. Where was her father all this time? Why had he gone off and forgotten his guest? She had heard her father say that he could not bear pain. He was too sensitively aware of it, he had often explained to her. He suffered more than anyone else could suffer . . .

When the early dusk had come she lighted the lamp and brought him her father's frayed dressing gown. The doctor had given her a sedative for Nicholas and he drank it with a wry face. He was not easy to care for; he was too impatient After a while she saw he was asleep.

She sat by his bed watching him, remembering the cruel gesture Dr. Madroni had made of cutting off a hand at the wrist. She felt shaky; she had eaten nothing since noon But she did not like to leave him long enough to go down to the kitchen.

Outside the window she heard the rhythm of cicalas. In the room was a low mutter For now the sedative had worn off he rolled and twisted, groaned aloud with a sound that tore straight through her breast

Perhaps Nicholas was dying. Perhaps this blood poisoning would kill him'

A Story of Humorous Boyhood Adventure

By JUDD MORTIMER LEWIS

FRIDAY. This was the next to the last day of the week, and it is gone, and I am so sorry I could stand on my head. I tried to teach Jubilee to stand on his head this morning before I let him down out of the window and put on my short britches, but he couldn't do it. He wouldn't try. I am sure that if he could have understood what I wanted him to do he would have tried. He is only a dog and he thinks when a fella has got four good feet to stand on why should he stand on his head He isn't like a boy. He don't understand what a good thing it is to be educated.

This is the day pieces are spoke in school, and when we all saw April Blossom in the yard she told us that she was going to speak a piece in our room again, and asked me if I wasn't glad But Younise was there so I told her what was it to me Then Banty butted in and asted her if she was going to speak Casabianca, which is the name of the piece where the fella stands on the burning deck, and she said she was going to speak Curfew Shall Not Ring Tonight, and then the bell rang and we all went in.

The Lost Bag of Tripe had brung a red tulip to school and had gave it to Feeble, and Feeble took it up and gave it to the teacher. Tulips don't smell but it was so pretty soon the teacher stuck her nose in it anyhow, and then she almost sneezed her head off, and she called Feeble up and was starting to scold her, but Feeble butted in and told her where she got it, so she knew it was the Lost Bag of Tripe that had put the pepper in it. She said she would see him after school.

When we got our lessons April Blossom came in, and while the teacher was telling us how nice she was to speak pieces for us Banty didn't pay any attention, so she told him to come up and give her what he was writing, and she looked at it and then told him to read it out loud, and he read.

"The boy stood on the burning deck,
But would not leave the place
Because his mother would wish his neck
And also wash his face."

Then the teacher told him he could stay after school and write it on the blackboard a hundred times. That's what he got for being a poet. We all hollered, and the teacher smiled behind her hand. Then April spoke her piece, only she was excited and she said, "Go! Your liver loves!' Said Cromwell," and we all hollered again, and then the bell rang and school was out. We went out of school like a cyclone, all but Banty and the Lost Bag of Tripe. I wish we would have speaking every day

I had to mind Annabelle Lee when I got home I wish my ant would do something.

"Heart of a Wife"

BY ADELE GARRISON

Madge Faces a Task.

THE mental processes of children are so incomprehensible at times that I wasted no breath or time in conjecture as to the conclusion to which Junior and Roderick announced they had come. Instead, I smiled down at them my irritation vanishing at the look of eagerness in the freckled, sunburned faces

"All right suppose you tell me what you think I want of you," I said.

They looked at each other as if for encouragement then by some tacit, unspoken agreement, Junior took the floor

"You're going to tell us which of those names, Ruby Pearl' or Opal Violet' you're going to give the baby,' he said hopefully

I sat down abruptly His tone was so confiding, and both boys were looking at me with such an earnest expectancy that my heart traveled into my shoes at the disappointment which I must give them. My mind had been so filled with the troubles of the older boys that when Junior said he and Roderick knew what I wanted of them, I had supposed that they had guessed my wish to have them keep silent about the burning of the white flannel trousers

A Most Difficult Task

Bitterly I regretted the evasion with which I had treated their first revelation of the names They evidently had banked largely upon the fact that I had not promptly negatived their proposal and their disappointment would be all the more keen when they realized the truth

I had a most difficult task in front of me I realized that I knew how tenaciously children cling to an idea, especially one which has its roots in their affection and their imagination, as this one had I must tread most warily or I would not only grieve and disappoint them, but would shake their confidence in my good faith to me one of the gravest risks a mother can run.

I waited a few seconds before speaking, groping for some satisfactory solution of the problem. Then, as their little faces began to lengthen, I spoke softly with the realization that appealing to their tenderness and to the chivalry which lies latent in every man child, was my only hope.

Think It Over

Before I tell you about the names," I began, "I want to talk to you just a little bit about Granzie and Grandpa You love them both very much, don't you?"

They nodded their heads vigorously Roderick was as emphatic as Junior, for my father has made him feel that he is as much a "really truly grandson' as Junior

"You wouldn't want to hurt them in any way, would you?"

Vigorous shakes of both small heads then Junior broke into rapid speech

"How would it hurt them to give the baby one of our names?" he demanded shrewdly

Because they are old and they haven't any little children of their own and they love their grandchildren so much that they like to give them names they like They didn't get a chance to give you your names for reasons that I'll tell you some time if you don't tease me about it But they do want to choose a name for your little sister and I think you're big men enough to forget about the names you wanted, even if you do like them better and let Granzie and Grandpa have their own way Don't answer me now I'm going into Aunt Katherine's room a minute and let you talk it over. But I'm counting on you You're my big unselfish boys, you know, and you know one of the first rules of the Scouts is to be kind to old people'

The Boys Are Ready

I was a bit ashamed about having lugged in the Boy Scouts by the ears as Dicky would have expressed it But I knew it was a most effective chord to strike Both boys are waiting most impatiently for the day to come when they shall be old enough to join the scouts and in the meantime they are regular sponges for absorbing all information about the organization

I went into Katherine's room and closed the door quietly behind me Turning from the crib in which she evidently had just laid the baby, she smiled quizzically at me, not betraying in the least the effort it must have been for her to evince amusement at anything

"Administering the high justice, the middle, and the low?" she asked.

"Something like that," I said, and told her rapidly, in low tones, of the accident to the clothing of the older boys, of my wish to silence the younger ones concerning it, and of the mistake the little boys had made concening my wish to speak to them

I had barely finished when the door opened behind me, and Junior's voice, curiously subdued, accosted me.

"Will you come in now Mums?" he asked "We've 'cided what we're going to do

FORMER RESIDENT OF GALION DIES

John Mollenkopf Claimed at Home of Son in Warren.

Special to The Star

GALION, April 24—John Mollenkopf, former resident of this city, died Thursday noon at the home of his son Milton Mollenkopf in Warren, with whom he had made his home for the last seven months.

The body will be brought here tonight and taken to the Snyder funeral home where services will be held Saturday at 2 30 p. m. Rev C. H. Riedsell, pastor of the Wharton Reformed church of which Mr. Mollenkopf was a member, will officiate and interment will be made in Fairview cemetery.

Mr. Mollenkopf was born Jan. 23, 1852 in Germany and came to Crawford county with his parents when he was three years of age. He had resided in this county practically all his life and followed the occupations of a farmer and carpenter. His marriage to Elizabeth Hoover took place March 6, 1881.

Surviving are five sons, Clarence, of Columbus, William, of northwest of Galion, Milton, of Warren, Dorsey of Galion and Huber of Akron. Four grandchildren and two brothers Lewis of Bucyrus and Jacob of Oceola, also survive. Mrs. Mollenkopf died nine years ago.

FOUND IN WELL

Above is a photograph of Miss Lucille Drew, 25, of Bucyrus, whose death has been a mystery to Crawford county authorities for the last week. The woman's body was found in an abandoned well at the home of a neighbor Monday noon after she had been missing for several days. A coroner's verdict is expected today.

FIRE CAUSES $500 DAMAGE TO GARAGE

Irey & Freeman Shop on Woodrow Avenue Damaged by Blaze.

A fire of unknown origin in the basement of the Irey & Freeman garage at 666 Woodrow avenue today at 2 35 a m caused damage to the building and garage equipment that may run between $500 and $600 according to the estimation of Fire Chief T. J. McFarland.

The fire was discovered and reported to central fire station by a man who saw the blaze while walking by the garage at that time. Companies No 1 and 2 responded to the call and confined the fire to the basement and stock room.

At the time of the fire five machines were stored in the rear of the garage and one was in the front room above that portion of the building that was on fire. Approximately 30 feet of flooring will have to be replaced to put the building back in condition for use. The building is owned by C U Fletcher of Columbus.

TO STAY OPEN

Auditor's Office To Aid Taxpayers in Listing Property.

Office hours of the county auditor's office will again be readjusted Saturday for the convenience of taxpayers who as yet have not listed their personal property for taxation, Auditor Earl E. Thomas announced today.

The office will open at 8 a. m and continue without closing until 9 p. m., Auditor Thomas announced.

The extension of regular hours was made in view of the approaching deadline for the filing of property listings May 1. Property owners tardy in filing these lists are subject to a penalty.

Harry Thompson has been added to the regular staff of the office to help in the drawing and filing of blanks. Eleven assessors in various parts of the county are also busy taking listings.

GRID STAR SPEAKS AT MEETING HERE

Jim Bell Tells of Colored Students' Activities at Ohio State.

Jim Bell, colored football star at Ohio State university, spoke to a large audience at the Center Street A. M. E. church last night and told of the life and activities of 500 or more colored students at Ohio State.

Bell in his talk outlined the rights of the Negro student and of the many privileges open to them at the State university. He also told of the courtesy and treatment he had received from his teammates and from other persons with whom he come in contact while traveling with the Ohio athletic teams.

Russell Walters, state lobbyist, also gave an interesting talk to the audience last night. He explained his work and gave several experiences of his while a lobbyist. Bell and Jesse Dickinson, president of the Columbus Junior Branch of the N. A. A. C. P. assisted 20 young people of the local A. M. E. church to organize a Marion branch of the Junior National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. After the meeting refreshments were served and the remainder of the evening was spent socially.

150 AT RECEPTION FOR NEW MEMBERS

Epworth M. E. Church Official Board Welcomes Newcomers During Year.

About 150 attended a reception for the new members of Epworth church, given by the official board and members of the church last night in the church parlors. One hundred and twelve men, women and children were received into membership during the conference year.

The program included talks by Dr. C. E. Turley, pastor, George W. Bacon, Sunday school superintendent, Earl T. Smart and Mrs. H. K. Henderson. Ray L. Williams gave a response from the new members to the welcome extended by the church.

A group of readings was given by Mrs. A. M. Hamilton, followed by several numbers played by Mrs. A. H. Koons on the accordion, two duets sung by Mrs. Turley and Mrs. A. M. Hunter and several vocal numbers by Harold Bradt. The Epworth Sunday school orchestra, directed by William Dowler, furnished music.

William T. Jones was named president of the Marion Real Estate board at a meeting last night in the offices of Bird Jacoby, secretary, in the Marion building. Harry A. Ammann was elected vice president, and Pat Dwyer was named secretary and treasurer.

Reports given at the meeting indicated there are fewer modern houses available for rent now than 60 days ago, due to families moving into Marion.

A resolution indorsing the boost Marion movement of Dr. Carl W. Sawyer and his committee of 32 citizens was adopted.

Monthly meetings at which real estate problems will be discussed will be held by the board.

INSPECTOR ORDERS MEAT DESTROYED

Action Taken After Unsanitary Packing Method Is Discovered.

Four hundred pounds of fresh meat was destroyed this morning by Dr. N. Sifritt, city and county health commissioner, and Dr. J. T Gruber, inspector of meats and milk, when it was learned the meat had been packed last night around a garbage can filled with ice.

An investigation was under way this morning to learn the identity of a driver for a Chicago packing firm who brought the meat to Marion last night, transferred it to the truck of a local hauler for delivery this morning, and packed it around the garbage can to keep it from spoiling.

The meat was delivered at local grocery stores this morning to be placed on sale before Dr. Sifritt discovered the unsanitary way it had been packed during the night The meat was traced down and ordered destroyed.

Filing of formal charges against the driver of the Chicago truck may result from the investigation, Dr. Sifritt said.

After calling a prisoner down the judge is likely to send him up.

Indians Loom as Distinct Threat in American League

FERRELL GIVES SOX FIVE HITS AS TRIBE SCORES 8-2 VICTORY

Detroit Wins Tight Battle with Browns, 1-0; Pitchers Are Stingy.

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ball players who are trying to get their teams into the American league pennant race this year are inclined to fear the Cleveland Indians more than several other teams which the fans consider about as strong

With Wes Ferrell on the hill, the Indians won their sixth game in nine starts to take undisputed possession of second place Ferrell gave the Chicago White Sox just five hits to win his third victory of the season by an 8 to 2 score.

This was just one sample of how Cleveland has been going through the early games. Ferrel has hurled two full games and parts of two others, winning three and losing one. Brown, Harder and Hudlin also have given Cleveland some good hurling.

Yesterday's other game produced a tight battle between the St. Louis Browns and Detroit Tigers.

Tom Bridges, the Tigers' recruit hurler, had the better of the mound duel with southpaw Walter Stewart, who pitched his third full game of the season. Bridges allowed only four hits and Stewart five, two of which came together to give Detroit a 1 to 0 decision.

Rain and cold weather throughout the major league portion of the country caused the postponement of all National league games and two in the American.

Babe Ruth To Remain in Hospital Indefinitely

By International News Service

BOSTON, April 24—Babe Ruth's condition remained unchanged in Peter Bent Brigham hospital today.

The home run slugger passed what the physicians styled a fairly comfortable night, but his leg still ached and he has not recovered motion beyond the power to wriggle a couple of his toes.

He will remain in the hospital for an indefinite period, set tentatively at from four days to two weeks.

INDIAN POWERHOUSE

Babe Ruth, Ha! That's what Joe Vosmik, 20-year-old rookie of the Cleveland Indians, has Ohio fans saying about the Yankee slugger. Vosmik has hit a modest .486 in the first nine games. Not bad for a rookie—or anyone else.

DOUBLE IN TWELFTH GIVES BREWERS WIN

Shires Connects To Help A. A. Leaders Beat Tribe; Columbus Wins.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, April 24—Charles Arthur (The Great) Shires hasn't made as much verbal noise as usual this season, but his bat has sounded off in extremely helpful style for the surprising Milwaukee Brewers, American Association leaders.

Shires today had a batting average of .470 against spring pitching, and yesterday banged out a double in the twelfth inning to give Milwaukee an 11 to 9 victory over Indianapolis.

Archie Campbell of Columbus came up with a great bit of pinch pitching in the ninth inning to preserve a 9 to 8 victory for the Red Birds over Minneapolis. After Columbus had staged an eighth inning rally which netted eight runs, the Millers came back and with none down and the tying run on second base, Campbell bore down and fanned Riconda, McMullen and Hargrave to throttle the rally

Don Hankins of Kansas City, and Joe De Berry of Louisville, presented the pitching duel of the afternoon, with the former gaining a 3 to 2 edge.

Toledo and St. Paul were frozen out.

SKED RELEASED

Harding Faces Nine Game Schedule in 1931 Season.

Harding High school's football team will play a nine game schedule next fall. This was revealed today when K. H. Marshall, principal of Harding released the schedule for the season.

The date for the annual game with Findlay is not certain yet. It is likely to be played on Oct. 17, Marshall said.

The complete schedule for the season follows:

Sept. 25—Columbus South there (night).
Oct. 3—Delaware here.
Oct. 10—Ashland there
Oct. 17—Open (will be filled).
Oct. 24—Bucyrus here.
Oct. 31—Mansfield here.
Nov. 7—Crestline here.
Nov. 14—Shelby there.
Nov. 21—Galion there.

SPORTS

AFTER having interviewed a number of managers of city recreation ball clubs I am beginning to wonder just how there are going to be sufficient championships to go around this season. Every manager is confident of winning a title and insofar as I have been able to ascertain there are only four to be given away. It looks like some teams are going to have to wait until a future year to decorate the walls of their organizations's meeting place with a championship pennant. Or else the city commission will have to start giving pennants to those teams "which would have won had they gotten the breaks."

The recreation ball craze seems to be gaining ground in Marion...if such is possible. Last year 11 of the city schools competed in a scholastic league backed by the Y. M. C. A. and the city baseball commission. This season 18 teams have already applied for entries. Competition in the scholastic league will commence next week.

Besides the increase in interest in the schools the "fair sex" of the city seem to be gaining the idea that boys are not the only ones who can play soft ball. Rumblings are being heard with increasing frequency concerning the possibility of forming a girls' recreation ball circuit.

The idea of a girls' league isn't such a bad one at that. There are plenty of girls in the city who would like to take part to warrant the formation of at least one league. There will probably be nothing done concerning any suggestions made here but nevertheless I think it would be a good thing to inaugurate girls' recreation ball here.

I can just hear the ball players of the city chanting, "The Little Sissy!" Heh-heh-her!

Each year in major league baseball there is a large number of rookies who start the season with a bang, literally burning up the circuits with their brilliant playing. As the season progresses the majority of them fade into background. Some keep up the pace but not many.

Joe Vosmik of Cleveland, pictured elsewhere on this page, is the most sensational rookie of the 1931 crop. His feats of batting are bringing Cleveland fans and sports writers to their feet with loud praises. Just how long he will keep up the good work is what everyone would like to know. It is a cinch he will not bat all season at the terrific pace he is now setting. He doesn't need to. If he continues at anything near like the present rate Cleveland will have presented to the baseball world the greatest ball player turned out in many years.

SMART HAS SEVERAL PROBLEMS TO SOLVE IN BUILDING WINNER

Epworth Seniors To Feel Loss of Rice from Mound Staff.

BY BOB KIRKPATRICK
Sports Editor, The Star

IF there is a recreation ball strategist in Marion who can offer a solution to the puzzle of how to take a 1930 fourth place ball club, substract its best pitcher and then mould the club into a pennant winning aggregation in 1931 there is a position available for him. He should get in touch with Earl Smart of 302 Franklin street. Smart will probably shout with glee at the sight of such an individual.

The reason is simple. A situation exactly as the one described above exists on the Epworth Seniors' ball club, directed by Smart. Last season the Seniors battled their way to into fourth place by the end of the season. Everything looked rosy for the future. Then Roy Rice, Marion's premier hurler, left town.

In A Class by Himself

With Rice on the mound, Smart's team was almost assured of finishing within one rung of the top in the league this season. No pitcher has been found who can compare with Rice when it comes to outsmarting batters and winning ball games. He is in a class by himself.

The absence from the lineup of Rice gives the Smart-coached team an entirely different aspect. The team still packs a lot of wallop but doesn't look like a serious contender for championship honors.

The lineup of the team will be almost the same as last season with the exception of Rice. Herb Wolfe and John Wiedemann will divide the catching duties and Bryant Corwin will do the lion's share of the mound work. Stewart Jones will probably be called on to do the relief hurling. Corwin is a good hurler and incidentally is improving but he doesn't figure to hold the No. 1 league sluggers in check all season. Jones has his good nights but finds the going a bit rough against heavy hitters.

A Good Infield

Ballenger at first, Sam Sharrock at second, Steve Marquis at short and Edgington at third make up the infield combination of the Seniors and ranks on a par with most any team in the circuit.

Judge W. R. Martin, Don Penry and Red Whitcum will patrol the outer gardens. The three should keep the outfield situation well in hand. Some of the reserves of the team are Ed. Stanley, Don McAninch and Carter Patton.

The club does not possess the strongest array of home run clubbers in the league but when it comes to singles and doubles it will get a full share. Judge Martin is the only consistent long distance hitter in the lineup but Marquis, Penry, Edington and Sharrock all are dangerous with the willow.

The Seniors will not win the league championship this year. But neither is the Epworth outfit likely to be "just another ball club." When the season is completed the Seniors will be securely entrenched in the first division.

Tomorrow: Trinity Baptist; Manager Bill Martin.

Texas league sports writers, in a pre-season poll, decided the Houston Buffalos had the best pennant chances.

BERG FAVORITE TO DEFEAT CANZONERI

Two Titles at Stake in Fight Tonight; Odds Are Reported at 7 to 5.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, April 24—Tony Canzoneri, lightweight champion of the world, will match his title against the junior welterweight crown owned by Jack (Kid) Berg of Whitechapel, England, tonight in the Chicago stadium.

Canzoneri, one time holder of the world featherweight championship, will be defending his latest title for the first time since he won it from Al Singer last November, and if the betting odds are indicative of the outcome, the lightweight title will take a trip to England the next time Berg goes home. The Britisher was held a 7 to 5 favorite to defeat the New York Italian by a decision at the end of the 10-round engagement.

Canzoneri's title was dragged into the argument when Berg, who has done his fighting at 138-40 pounds, made the lightweight limit of 135 pounds to get a crack at the more expensive crown. Canzoneri, however, believed that making the weight had done the Briton no good and was confident he would win by a knockout within five rounds.

Berg, who scored a decisive victory over Canzoneri in New York before the latter won his title, said that making weight had done no harm and that he expected to repeat without extraordinary difficulty.

Both are aggressive fighters and the meeting tonight promises to provide more action than any lightweight title fight since the division championship began bobbing around like a cork on a wave.

A move to establish a four-man fish and game commission failed in the Missouri legislature.

TRACK SENSATION

PEYTON GLASS, JR.

Peyton Glass Jr., sensational sophomore sprinter of the Oklahoma A. & M. track squad, bids fair to succeed Claude Bracey and Cy Leland as the dash star of the southwest.

Glass was unknown until he won the "century" at the Southwest Exposition this spring at Fort Worth, Tex., in 9.6 seconds, equaling Leland's record time for the meet.

Later at the Texas relays at Austin, he was twice clocked in 9.5, a mark which, if approved, would tie the world's record.

In high school Glass specialized in the broad jump. He is 19 years old.

Hafey Faces Suspension from Cardinals' Club

By The Associated Press

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 24—Charles James (Chick) Hafey, the St. Louis Cardinals' heaviest gunner, still was among the missing today and unless he puts in a sudden and unexpected appearance before midnight and signs a contract he will be suspended automatically.

It appeared certain today Hafey will play for $12,500, or won't play at all for the Cardinals. President Sam Breadon of the Cards has set that as his maximum figure and Breadon probably changes his mind on such matters less often than any other baseball magnate.

Schmeling Confident of Retaining Heavy Title

By The Associated Press

FRENCH LICK, Ind., April 24—Max Schmeling, present king of the heavyweights, believes the "best man" will win his bout with W. L. "Young" Stribling, at Cleveland July 3, but of course he believes Herr Maxie himself is the person to whom he is referring.

He has seen Stribling fight, and does not hold him lightly. He knows the Georgian is strong and tricky, but the German expects to wear him down over the 15-round route. He doesn't believe Stribling will hit as hard as Jack Sharkey did.

DRAKE RELAYS UNDER WAY

Honorary French Club Plans Guest Day Picnic

Committees for a guest picnic to close the year's activities of Le Petit Salon, honorary French club of Harding High school, was named at a meeting of the society Wednesday after school at the home of Garnet Thomasson of 238 Olney avenue. Jean Witt was assisting hostess.

Emily Halby, Helen Lewis and Garnet Thomasson were named to set a date and select a meeting place and Roma Bader, Helen Cross, Hildegarde Wanner and Geraldine Scranton were named a refreshments committee. Virginia Shipley, president, named the committees.

A program in two parts was given, one a depiction of familiar nursery rhymes and the other an educational program on the lives of famous French artists and their paintings. Iga Granger gave an account of the Louvre and Luxembourg galleries in France, after which reports on French painters and their masterpieces, with living reproductions by members of the society, were given as follows:

"Life of Rosa Bonheur and her painting, "The Horse Fair," by Zelma Bird; Corot and his "Dance of the Nymphs" and "Landscape," by Verna Babcock; Millet and his "The Angelus" and "The Gleaners," with Helen Cross, Mary Thompson and Roma Bader representing the latter picture; Breuze and his "The Girl with the Broken Pitcher," by Hildegarde Wanner, posed by Garnet Thomasson; Madame LeBrun and her "Madame LeBrun and Her Daughter," by Marjorie Long, posed by Catherine Canfield and Jean Witt; Breton's "Song of the Lark," by Geraldine Scranton, posed by Betty Mann; Bastien Le Page's "Jeanne d'Arc," by Emily Halby, posed by Virginia Shipley. Whitney Cookston was in charge of the first part of the program, and Emily Halby was in charge of the nursery rhyme program which was given as follows:

Helen Lewis, "Little Miss Muffet"; Whitney Cookston, "Jack in the Corner"; Jean Witt and Whitney Cookston, "Jack and Jill"; Garnet Thomasson recited "Five Little Pigs." Each character read the nursery rhyme in French. Refreshments were served by the hostesses. A meeting will be held in May at the home of Zelma Bird, with Geraldine Everett as program chairman, assisted by Betty Mann, Miss Ruth Starr and Miss Isabel Freer.

TWO FARM GROUPS TO HOLD MEETING

Grange and Farm Bureau Members To Stage Joint Social Here April 29.

A social meeting to bring together Marion county's two leading farm organizations will be held April 29 at Schwinger's hall on North Prospect street when the Marion County Farm Bureau and the Pomona Grange hold a joint meeting.

Five hundred members of the two groups are expected to attend. There will be no speeches nor business sessions, according to Fred Lusch, service manager for the Farm Bureau.

Adrian Harper of Richwood, state champion in an old time fiddlers' contest last year, and a number of Marion county old time fiddlers will furnish dance music.

The meeting will start at 8 p. m. A potluck lunch will be served.

DANDRUFF

what it is—how to remove it

how to treat scalps that itch and burn

Great dermatologists declare that a normal, healthy scalp is extremely rare. Some go as far as to say that there is no scalp that is not troubled in some way, to some degree. The most common—and humiliating—condition is loose dandruff.

Don't miss

Infection makes fat glands overactive

Dandruff is caused by overactivity of the fat glands of the scalp—which expel a greasy, whitish substance known as sebum. This overactivity is the result of infection, many dermatologists claim. They advise immediate treatment. Whatever the cause, this activity should be checked lest the condition continue and cause eczema, falling hair, and baldness.

Why Listerine checks dandruff

Frequent shampoo, vigorous massage, and the use of an antiseptic constitute effective treatment for ordinary cases of loose dandruff.

The success of Listerine in combating this condition is due to certain unusual qualities. Since it is a safe though powerful germicide, Listerine combats any irritation that may be present on the scalp.

It dissolves and removes incrustations of sebum from the hair and scalp, assuring antiseptic cleanliness.

It produces on the scalp an astringent effect, exhilarates and invigorates the tissue around the hair roots.

It allays itching, and soothes inflammation and eruption frequently associated with dandruff.

Results achieved quickly

You simply use Listerine as a part of the shampoo, or independent of it. Douse it on the scalp full strength and massage vigorously. Keep the treatment up, using a little olive oil if the scalp is excessively dry. You will be delighted to see how quickly you get results. Frequently loose dandruff disappears after one or two treatments. Sometimes however, if the case is stubborn, a week or two and perhaps more will be required. Hamlin Garland Returns To Honor His Ohio Benefactor

DELAWARE, O., April 24—Hamlin Garland, who left a farm on the prairies almost half a century ago and went east, where he became a noted writer on middle western life, will be the guest of Ohio Wesleyan university next Wednesday. He comes to speak in honor of one of its presidents who started him on his literary career.

In his latest book, "Roadside Meetings," Mr. Garland tells of his meeting with James W. Bashford, then an itinerant minister and later president of Ohio Wesleyan. The time was 1884 and the scene was the little cottage of the Garlands in a bleak Dakota frontier village.

Sensing the possibilities of the young plainsman, Bashford urged him to go east for study.

Starts Out with $200

Taking the visitor at his word, Garland mortgaged his land claim for $200 and went to Boston. There he lived scantily in food and clothing and lodging, but richly in literature and oratory and drama. Soon he formed acquaintances with such men as Edward Everett Hale, James A. Herne and William Dean Howells, an Ohio novelist, then "exiled" in the east. The latter became an inspiring counselor to the young farmer who was knocking so earnestly, so hopefully, at the portals of literary recognition.

It was not long until Hamlin Garland's fame as a writer was established. Among his widely-known volumes are: "Main-Traveled Roads," "They of the High Trails," "Trail-Makers of the Middle Border," "A Son of the Middle Border," and "A Daughter of the Middle Border." It was the last-named volume which won him the Pulitzer prize for the "best American biography" published in 1921.

Speeches Scheduled

Mr. Garland now lives in New York City and Hollywood, Calif.

While here, he will speak in the university chapel exercises and before the English Writers' club and the Press club, new campus journalistic organization.

Dr. Bashford became president of Ohio Wesleyan in 1889. In 1904 he was elected bishop in the Methodist Episcopal church. He died in 1919.

Flashes of Life

By The Associated Press

LONDON—Evidently if King George be toasted in anything but wine royal approval must be obtained. Anyhow such an inference has been drawn by some folks from an announcement at a luncheon celebrating the opening of a tea warehouse. His majesty's health was drunk in tea, the chairman saying that permission had been given by the Lord Chamberlain.

NEW YORK — Rudy Vallee has an ambition to play two-fisted, he-man roles in the movies. Back from a tour in which he and his orchestra grossed $22,000 a week, he says he is tired of being known as an effeminate kind of crooner.

MADRID—Expelled from the Spanish Aero club a short time back for his part in an unsuccessful revolt, Major Ramon Franco, Spain's best aloft, has been re-elected president of the club by acclamation.

NEW YORK—High school diplomas in the big city are to be smaller, 6 by 8 inches, instead of 11 by 17. It is explained the old size took too much in modern apartments and the new ones cost $2.56 instead of $4.05.

CONCORD, N. H.—Yesterday was fast day in New Hampshire, a holiday. The Puritans started the custom of devoting a day to prayer when the rigors of winter were over. There is no special observance nowadays.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. — High school students in Colorado Springs are being taught to fly. A glider club recently organized among the students will provide them with instruction in the theory of flight, aerodynamics and construction. A ground training machine is being constructed for practice sessions. The class meets three times a week.

Plenty to eat—yet...?

DELICIOUS FOOD. Well prepared. Plenty of variety. Yet, far too often the best of meals is sadly lacking in certain elements that are necessary to real health.

At breakfast especially we are apt not to get the minerals and vitamins we need for building vigor, energy and resistance to illness. It's why many children are underweight and susceptible to colds—why many adults lack the brimming energy that means health.

Mothers can now serve a certified cereal that contains 10 important mineral salts. Kellogg's WHOLE WHEAT Biscuit. Delicious double-toasted biscuit. Made of crisp wheat shreds. With a wonderful flavor — and the wonderful food value of whole wheat.

Two Kellogg's WHOLE WHEAT Biscuits and milk or cream will furnish more than a third of your daily mineral requirement — including calcium, phosphorus, chlorine, iron, copper — and 6 different vitamins. Look for the certified analysis on every red-and-green package. At your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Everybody in Old Home Town Joins in Welcome to Ted Lewis

By International News Service

COLUMBUS, O., April 24—The whole town will turn out this week to welcome back Ted Lewis, a former boy who made good.

Ted Lewis, "king of jazz" now, learned about music at "Cricket" Smith's barber shop in Circleville which is right next door to Columbus, is coming here this week with his famous band.

And right down in front at a local theater at the opening performance will be several of the Circleville crowd that constituted Ted's first band, back in 1898.

Ted Lewis, or Theodore Friedman or Circleville knows him, was just eight years old at the time and the youngest member of the organization which they called the Circleville High School Cadet band.

Ted took naturally to the clarinet and picked it up in no time, old friends recall.

But Ted's trick of "jazzing" a piece caused him trouble and before long the old German bandmaster who directed the band disagreed with the future "jazz king" over how to play "Poet and Peasant," and so Ted lost his place.

Ted's father wanted him to grow up and become a successful dry goods merchant, but Ted wanted a jazz tempo every minute and wanted to go to college. Finally his parents sent him to a business college in Columbus.

Two months later Ted's parents made an important discovery. Ted was not going to school.

The family visited Columbus to investigate and found him in a blue uniform with large brass buttons playing in a band in Olentangy park.

That was how Ted went back to Circleville. The way he left the second time is a longer story, but when he did depart it was to go to New York. He played in theaters in and near his home town to earn his fare.

How his sobbing clarinet boosted him to the top of his profession and how he found smart night clubs just as receptive to his melodies as the boys in "Cricket" Smith's barber shop back home is a part of his life story that is well known.

Rheumatism Goes Swollen Joints Vanish

How To End Rheumatism in Less Than a Week

If you suffer from torturing rheumatic pains, sore muscles or stiff inflamed joints, it's because your system is full of the dangerous poisons that cause rheumatism and make thousands helpless. What you need is RU-MA, and need it right now.

RU-MA acts on the blood, stomach, kidneys and liver, and drives the dangerous rheumatic poisons from the system through the natural channels of elimination — it eases pain the first day.

You must use an internal medicine to free the joints and muscles of crippling stiffness, soreness and torturing pain. That's why RU-MA succeeds while external remedies and pain deadening drugs give only temporary relief.

Henney & Cooper says no matter what kind of rheumatism you have, or how long you have suffered, try RU-MA—it must completely end all rheumatic agony or you get your money back.—Adv.

THIMBLE THEATER — BY SEGAR

PST. POPEYE- A DIAMOND
WE DON'T GIVE CHARITY TO SWABS WEARIN' ROCKS
I BOUGHT IT AT THE FIVE AND TEN FOR A DIME
LOOKS REAL. AN' I THINK YER LYIN'
ERE- I'LL GIVE YA TY DOLLARS FOR IT
ER- AH— MMM— UGH
SO YA WON'T TAKE $50. FOR A DIME ROCK? THAT PROVES IT'S REAL— YA CAN'T COME IN HERE AN' REPOSE ON US
ETTIN' HARD, EH? HOW'D YOU LIKE A SMACK ON THE BUTTON?
COME ON- SMACK IT!

TRY AN' FORGIT THAT-

TILLIE THE TOILER — BY RUSS WESTOVER

WHO'S THIS BLONDE I'VE BEEN HEARING ABOUT, MAC?
WE'LL HAVE DINNER TONIGHT, BILL, AND I'LL TELL YOU ALL ABOUT HER
SORRY, MAC. BUT I'M GONNA TAKE MISS JONES TO DINNER TONIGHT- SOME OTHER TIME
BUT I HARDLY KNOW YOU, MR. STEVENS
YEAH!
THAT'S THE REASON I'M TAKING YOU OUT- SO YOU CAN KNOW ME BETTER- C'MON, LET'S GO
THAT'S A THOUGHT, TOO
TILLIE'S GOT A NERVE- GOING OUT WITH BILL THE FIRST TIME SHE MEETS HIM

THE GUMPS — BY SIDNEY SMITH

WHEN THE WIDOW HAPPENED TO PASS TOM CARR'S OFFICE YESTERDAY- WHILE DRIVING WITH UNCLE BIM IN HIS NEW CAR- IT LEFT TOM WITH A FEELING OF DEPRESSION-
HE HAS NEVER REALLY CARED FOR HENRIETTA-
THEN WHY- HE ASKS HIMSELF- WHY?
SHOULD HE CARE IF HE SEES HER RIDING WITH SOMEONE ELSE-
HE HAS NEVER LOVED ANOTHER GIRL BUT MARY GOLD-
WELL- HERE'S ONE FOR YOU- TOM- A CABLE FROM OUR EUROPEAN MANAGER- HE SAYS THAT RUMORS OF OUR CONSOLIDATION HAVE REACHED OUR FOREIGN DISTRIBUTORS- ORDERS ARE POURING IN AT SUCH A RATE THAT CAPACITY PRODUCTION IS ASSURED FOR THE NEXT SIX MONTHS- WHAT ARE YOU GOING TO DO WITH ALL THIS MONEY?
RY AS HE WILL TO CONCENTRATE- HIS HEART IS NOT IN HIS WORK- CHECKS TO BE SIGNED- LETTERS TO DICTATE- DEALS TO CLOSE- BUT HIS BRAIN WILL NOT FUNCTION- HIS THOUGHTS WANDER-
HENRIETTA- I CAN'T GET HER OUT OF MY MIND-
T'S NO USE— TOM CAN DO NO WORK TODAY- JEALOUSY- THAT GREEN-EYED MONSTER IS AT WORK- AND TOM CARR- WHO HAS ALWAYS LOOKED ON HENRIETTA AS A PAL- IS BEGINNING FOR THE FIRST TIME TO FEEL SOME OF THE PANGS FROM HIS CRUEL DARTS-
IT'S UNFAIR TO PAN BIM GUMP- BUT I CAN'T IMAGINE WHAT SHE CAN SEE IN HIM- THAT OLD MAN-

JUST KIDS — BY AD CARTER

POLLY AND HER PALS — BY CLIFF STERRETT

IMAGINE A PUSSON MAW'S AGE GOIN' AN' GITTIN' HERSELF LOST LIKE A INFANT!
THE HON. POLICE ON THE PHONE, SIR!
Y'SURE IT'S HER, HUH? GOOD! WHAT'S SHE GOT TO SAY FER HERSELF?
NUTHIN'! EH?
THEY'S SOME MISTAKE, OFFICER! THAT CAN'T BE MY WIFE!

TOOTS AND CASPER — BY JIMMY MURPHY

OF COURSE YOU WOULD HAVE AN EXCUSE TO GO OUT JUST WHEN I NEED YOU TO WIPE THE DISHES FOR ME, CASPER.
I'M GOING TO PUT IN AN APPEARANCE AT THE GOOD-FELLOWS' CLUB, TOOTS, SO THE MEMBERS WON'T FORGET WHAT THEIR PRESIDENT LOOKS LIKE! I HAVEN'T BEEN THERE IN AGES!
HELLO, MR. PRESIDENT. THE BOYS OF THE CLUB HAVE BOUGHT A BLOCK OF TICKETS FOR THE BIG FIGHT NEXT WEEK- THEY'RE ALL ROOTING FOR COLONEL HOOFER'S PROTEGE, LARRY CHIX!
THE EXPERTS ALL PICK RED CRICKETT TO BEAT LARRY CHIX EASILY, BUT I SUPPOSE YOU CAN NEVER TELL!
I'VE GOT A HUNCH THAT LARRY CHIX WILL WIN- IF HE DOES COLONEL HOOPER WILL BE SITTING PRETTY BEFORE LONG!
IF LARRY SHOULD WIN THE TITLE SOMEDAY BOTH ME AND COLONEL HOOPER WILL BE MILLIONAIRES
I'M WORRIED! I AIN'T JEALOUS, BUT WHAT IF COLONEL HOOPER SHOULD MAKE A LOT OF MONEY? WELL, HE'LL NEVER FLAUNT HIS WEALTH IN MY FACE! I'D CUT HIM OUT FIRST!
WHO DO YOU PICK TO WIN? LARRY CHIX OR RED CRICKETT?

Gentlemen:
I welcome this opportunity to put on record the benefits I have enjoyed from using ZZZ tablets purchased at your drugstore.
About three years ago last September, my physician advised me that my complication of gall, liver and appendix ailments had reached a point that my only hope for recovery rested with the success of a serious abdominal operation. His examinations showed my physical condition to be such that the hope of a succesful operation appeared extremely doubtful.
With this discouraging prospect before me, I tried taking ZZZ tablets and have continued them until this time. I feel that I am completely cured of all my gall and liver ailments and am ready to verify this letter at any time and recommend your remedy to any who may inquire.
Yours very truly,
(Signed)

LEGAL NOTICE

In the Municipal Court of the City of Marion, Ohio. Cause No. 2717. City of Marion, Ohio, Plaintiff, vs. Ben Hughes, Defendant.

In pursuance of an order of the Municipal Court of the City of Marion, I, Wm. E. Marks, Chief of Police of the City of Marion, Ohio, will offer at public sale at the office of the Chief of Police at the Police Station, located at the corner of East Center and Orchard Streets in Marion, Ohio, on Saturday, May 2nd, 1925, at two o'clock P. M., the following described property, to-wit:

One Chevrolet Coupe automobile, Motor No. 4843903, Indiana License No. 26-692.

Said automobile having been confiscated and ordered sold by the Municipal Court of Marion, Ohio, in the above entitled action wherein said defendant was charged with and did plead guilty to, the illegal transportation of intoxicating liquor.

WM. E. MARKS,
Chief of Police.

STOCK MARKET MOVES HIGHER

Selling Flurry Burns Self Out and Prices Advance Generally.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 24—The selling flurry in the stock market appeared to have burned itself out today, and the list accomplished substantial recovery in dull trading.

The market showed some signs of nervousness in the early trading, when Westinghouse Electric, some of the oils and miscellaneous issues, were offered rather freely, but the list turned upward before midday.

Although there had been some expectation that the federal reserve, after cutting its bill rate, presumably to check the flow of gold from France, might go a step further to reduce its rediscount rate to 1¼ per cent, the fact that the rate was left unchanged caused no disappointment, for the lower bill rate appears to be accomplishing its supposed purpose, and money is again about as cheap as it can be. Call loans were offered outside at 3 per cent.

The drop of only $5,000,000 in brokers loans in a week of declining prices was interpreted as indicating that there had been considerable selling of investment stock, but that kind of selling is not the sort that has to culminate in a violent shake out, so some observers feel that if the market drifts off into a period of extreme quiet, it will be a reassuring development.

CROP REPORTS AID PRICES

Wheat Gains on Notice of Deterioration in Kansas Belt; Corn Higher.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, April 24—Crop deterioration reports from Kansas and unexpected firmness of Liverpool wheat quotations led to early upturns in grain prices here today. Absence of any important amount of moisture in spring wheat territory was also a bullish factor. Opening at a shade decline to ⅝ cents advance wheat later held near to the initial limits. Corn started ⅛ off to ⅛ up, and subsequently showed all around gains.

Between Pratt, Kansas and Dodge City, earliest seeded wheat fields were asserted to be showing unmistakable evidence of going backward in condition, although the crop as a whole appeared excellent. The deterioration referred to was ascribed to abnormal root growth caused by mildness of the winter. Liverpool dispatches noted generally good demand with some frost damage in France and prospects that the percentage of foreign wheat permitted in France would soon be enlarged.

Indications that a liberal volume of export business in North American wheat had been done overnight helped to give firmness to prices. Canadian crop authorities continued to stress statements that the seed beds for wheat in the prairie provinces were unsatisfactory and that material reduction of acreage seemed probable. On the other hand, southwestern domestic millers were reported as having increased wheat production estimates much above government April 1 figures. Corn and oats reflected upturns in wheat.

Provisions were easy, in the absence of aggressive buying.

Cardinal Outfielder Agrees to Terms After Long Holdout.

By The Associated Press

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 24—Charles "Chick" Hafey, heavy-hitting outfielder, today telegraphed President Sam Breadon of the St. Louis Cardinals that he would accept Cardinal terms and would leave for St. Louis from Berkeley, Calif., early next week.

The telegram from Hafey, who has been a persistent holdout, came less than a day before the expiration of the ten-day grace period, after which he would have been automatically suspended if he had not accepted terms. The outfielder will return to the National league champions at a salary of $13,500, an increase of $1,500 over last year Hafey had asked $15,000.

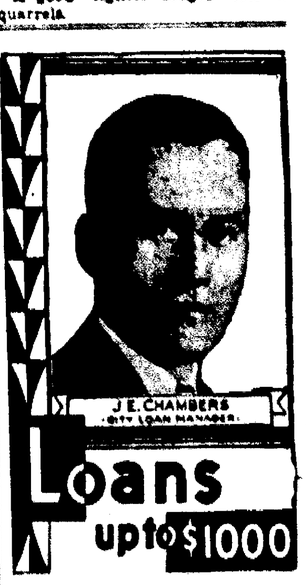
A good fighter dodges lots of quarrels.



A man who has $5.00 more than he owes is rich. That may seem a rash statement, and yet if you had no money and found $5.00 it would seem like wealth to you.

Everything in life is comparative. Walk along any street—look at the houses — the stores — homes and businesses — each one representing money invested. But before the money is spent there must be a wish, a determination to have something of equal value.

You have had many such wishes. Maybe you need a few cash dollars—just a little bit to add to what you have to do the thing you have in mind.

Let The City Loan make up the amount you lack—then pay it back from income.

KIWANIANS DISCUSS CLUB ACTIVITIES

Committee Chairmen Tell of Progress Made in Projects for Year.

A general discussion of Kiwanis activities featured a weekly luncheon of the Kiwanians at the Marion club yesterday. H. P. Madden of Chicago, president of the Chicago-Pittsburgh Air Express Co., failed to appear for his scheduled address.

After a discussion by committee chairmen of progress made in the projects of the club this year, a song service was conducted by A A. VanAtta.

The club is now purchasing spectacles for children with defective eyesight who are financially unable to afford spectacles, and is also planning to send 35 children to the Kiwanis fresh air camp, an annual feature at Camp Uhler near Hepburn.

Vocational guidance, another annual project of the club, was discussed. Plans are now being made for a meeting of club members with high schol graduates to assist them in the selection of a vocation.

Jail Scales in Ohio Town Get Real Test

By International News Service

JEFFERSON, O., April 24—Ashtabula county goes in strong for heavy deputy sheriffs and prisoners.

Scales in the jail office groaned when three of the deputies and a prisoner climbed on recently. Deputy J. E. Bennett sent the hand to 291; P. H. Waterman scored 244 and Tom Loftus showed 216.

Then, up stepped the prisoner, Leo Aron, and shamed all three. He took first prize with a 296.

It is said that the action of Great Britain and this country in recognizing the provisional government of Spain was taken with less delay than ordinarily with the idea of strengthening it at home and enabling it to maintain order. The course taken may be the proper one, but it makes manifest a suspicion in both London and Washington that the new republic may not be sufficiently strong to stand upon its feet.

The Frustrated Farm Board.

The federal farm board, obliged to run the gauntlet from its inception, is in the tightest of many tight spots. The emerald blades of 1931 wheat, a crop already foreseen as "bumper," are mocking the board's vast wheat holdings from last year. If they can not be disposed of before the new crop reaches the market, the board will have to bear the loss. For months it has been making confident predictions that it could come out ahead; the growing 1931 crop largely negatizes these predictions.

The board has announced it will offer its wheat holdings abroad whenever market conditions are favorable, a course that lends itself to misunderstanding and encourages speculation. Thus, an instantaneous reaction to the announcement was that the board contemplated "dumping," the same practice it condemned officially last fall on the part of Russia. The board's denial of such an intention, unfortunately, lacks something; while it may not contemplate "dumping," it is obvious to Europeans that every bushel of wheat the United States offers the world market has its effect on world prices. The European wheat market will be affected inevitably, and is already unsettled.

The kindest way to consider the farm board and its problems is to concede openly that the board is frustrated, and with good reason. It is in a tight spot, and has no definite plan of escape. The announcement that it plans to dispose of some of its holdings in Europe immediately was interpreted as a "dumping" policy; the fear that it won't do something with its holdings exposes it to an unrestrained tirade of abuse from domestic sources. Any one seeking the true state of the board's affairs and plans would do well to accept its most recent official statement at face value. The statement reads in part:

"The board has made no decision in regard to the future wheat stabilization operations except those previously announced. These are—1—that an effort will be made to sell abroad by July 1 35,000,000 bushels of out-of-position wheat stored at Atlantic, Gulf and Pacific Northwest seaports, and—2—that stabilization purchases will not be made from the 1931 crop. Any statement that the farm board at this time contemplates any other action is misleading."

It's a Great Game.

With the summer vacation period at hand, we are reminded of one of the pleasing emoluments enjoyed by our federal legislators. True, senators and representatives haven't any monopoly on the vacation business, but they have this advantage over the run of citizens in private life in that, where the private citizen pays his own vacation expenses, the federal legislator very often, if not usually, enjoys his at public expense.

Members of the two houses of congress may travel without cost, other than a very nominal charge for their meals, on army or navy transports to our outlying possessions such as the Panama canal strip, the Hawaiian islands or the Philippines. Not only that, but they may take their families with them, paying only for the meals consumed, and a second-class boarding-house would scorn as compensation for its meals the price they are asked to pay. Again, our federal legislators will get places on some investigating committee and take upon themselves the investigation of this, that or the other which will route them near some national park, or parks, or some other area of scenic beauty they desire to visit. Senator Gerald P. Nye and his sub-committee investigating election expenses gave the country a notable illustration of how many of the country's beauty spots may be visited at public expense in the pursuit of abuses, real or assumed.

Just at present, public attention is directed to the sub-committee of the senate committee studying the depression in silver prices, which is headed by Senator Key Pittman, of Nevada, which one day last week voted its members what promise to be enjoyable summer vacation trips abroad. Chairman Pittman was authorized to go to China to study silver conditions there, possibly because of the fact that he has a greater desire to visit China than he has to do his investigating in some of the European countries, while the other members of the sub-committee—Senators Claude A. Swanson, of Virginia; Henrik Shipstead, of Minnesota; Hiram Johnson, of California, and Arthur H. Vandenburg, of Michigan—will see how silver is getting along in European lands.

Senator Pittman, a few days ago, explained that he wished to ascertain the attitude of the Chinese business men toward an international conference on the stabilization of silver prices, the financial needs of the Nationalist government of China, and the uses to which such possible financial assistance would be put and the methods necessary to regulate its issue.

Now a moment's consideration should convince anybody that light along these lines could be far more easily obtained and far better and with less expense by communication with our consular agents in China. Our agents there are far better situated to get the desired information than any legislator making a summer vacation trip could possibly be. But our legislators insist on having information "at first hand." And realizing the need of this "first hand" information on silver prices, the passage of two resolutions was brought about away last June. The first created the committee, and the second authorized it to expend up to $20,000 in the securing of it.

And it's simply amazing where our senators and members of the house go to get their "first-hand" information. American travelers in Europe find them picking it up in the Savoy restaurant in London, in the garden of the Ritz in Paris, on the terrace of the Grand Palace at Montreux, in the courtyard of the Victoria at Interlaken, on the Excelsior beach at Lido, about the Royal Danieli in Venice, listening to band concerts in the great square of Florence, amid the myriad sights of Rome, on the bay front in Naples, on the Grande Corniche out of Nice, in the casino or the restaurant of the Palace at Biarritz, or through the chateau country of the Loire. It's an astounding fact that our federal law-makers, for some strange reason, will usually be found gleaning their information at first hand along the routes usually followed by the American traveler out to see the sights and beauty spots of Europe, and, strangely again, they will usually be found quartered in the de luxe hotels.

It's a great game, this matter of getting information "at first hand," for legislative purposes.

It's pretty near a cinch that the next time the Hon. Jouett Shouse starts out to let loose a little misinformation to a friendly gathering he will first see that the microphone has been disconnected.

Mme. Magda Lupescu, the red-haired companion of King Carol in the days of his exile, is now said to be the power behind the Roumanian throne, which probably may be taken to explain why the throne of Roumania since the return of Carol has manifested so little power.

One of the big news associations told us that hundreds of gallons of water fell over the state during the rain of the early hours of Wednesday; a statement which comes pretty close to the attainment of the acme of conservatism.

In two successive days Captain Hawks practically halved two records, cutting the time from London to Rome to five hours and twenty minutes and the time from Le Bourget to Croydon field to fifty-nine minutes. But then, we have long maintained that flying records in these times are made one day, only to be broken the next.

The combined heights of three New York City brothers whose ages aggregate fifty-six years is 19¼ feet, the shortest being six feet and six inches in height and the tallest, six feet and eight inches. How could youths like that ever have escaped attention so long?

The young woman who sued Eugene O'Neil for $2,000,000 damages, claiming that his "Strange Interlude" was stolen from "The Temple of Pallas-Athene," written and copyrighted by her in 1924, four years previous to the copyrighting of "Strange Interlude," has been ordered to pay the costs and O'Neil's attorneys' fees amounting to $17,500. Of course, if plaintiffs charging plagiarism are going to be held responsible for the expenses they force defendants to incur, it's going to work against the present-day popularity of such proceedings.

Editorial Opinion.

A REASONABLE BONUS SYSTEM.

Responsibility toward the public and a sense of industrial statesmanship are implicit in the annual accounting of the United States Steel corporation to its stockholders. The contrast between its report and that of the Bethlehem Steel corporation is most striking as illustrating the point which this newspaper has been trying to make in the matter of unreasonable bonuses to executives. No officer of the United States Steel corporation received in 1930 more than $71,000 in cash and stock bonus, as compared with a payment to Eugene G. Grace, president of the Bethlehem Steel corporation, of more than $1,000,000.

The bonus system, we have contended, is not vicious in principle provided it is held to reasonable proportions. The heads of a great industrial enterprise should be tempted with concrete reward to put forth their efforts in behalf of the capital in their charge. But surely the reader will recognize a difference between dividing $3,122,168 among 2,574 executives and handing out approximately $2,000,000 to twenty men, of whom one gets more than half.

"Temperance in all things" is an excellent motto to follow whether it is personal or corporate conduct that is involved. The United States Steel corporation is not an eleemosynary institution. It expects and intends to make profits for its stockholders, but at the same time it respects its social obligations. It prefers, therefore, to make the salaries it pays of more importance than its bonuses. It recognizes that while profits are eminently desirable they can be overdone and that the executive who shapes his policy with an eye to the economic situation as a whole, regardless of immediate gain, is a more valuable employe than he whose major income depends on current results.

One of the most eloquent features of the Steel corporation's report is the item concerning employment. In the face of adverse conditions it has made a successful effort to maintain its working forces intact, according to Myron C. Taylor, chairman of the board. Extravagant bonuses do not encourage this sort of management.—New York Herald Tribune.

MORE LATIN-AMERICAN BANDITRY.

Professional insurgents and communists, inciting and leading unemployed workers and aided by what the American minister at Tegucigalpa describes as "riffraff of the northern section" of Honduras, have risen against the liberal government of President Vincente Mejia Colindres. They have attacked cities, plundered banks and destroyed much property.

The uprising may have been planned and inspired by General Ferrera, a disappointed politician, who as secretary of war four years ago sought to use the national army for purposes of his own. Ferrera and his followers seem to have taken advantage of the country's economic difficulties, the depreciation of the currency and the prevailing vague general discontent to try to bring about a revolution. Recent experience has shown that under present conditions it is not difficult to recruit forces in Latin-American countries for an insurrection. Honduras, in fact, is the eleventh southern republic to experience armed rebellion due to the unrest caused largely by the world-wide industrial depression. Fortunately the present outbreak has little chance to succeed.

The United States has announced that it will protect its own and other foreign nationals in the seacoast areas of Honduras. Its policy there is the same as that now pursued by it toward Nicaragua, where government troops are preparing to crush the murderous bands directed by the bandit Sandino. No effort is to be made to send American forces into the interior of either country.—Chicago News.

Twenty Years Ago.

It was Monday, April 24

The Marion City Water company was awarded $500 damages because the Little Scioto improvement compelled it to lower its main seven feet to get below the new bottom of the channel.

Peter W. Weweester had his left arm crushed by a trip hammer in the plant of the Marion Steam Shovel company.

Marriage licenses were issued to Minnie Carr and Harry Bolander and to Rose B. Knight and Charles Rappold.

B. F. Waples was quite ill.

Marion, with Seneff in the box, defeated Hamilton, ten to four.

It was announced that the contract for the two new city school buildings had been awarded to W. C. Hanchey, of Zanesville. His bid was $36,687.

Rest, Sleep and Diet.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

It is common to refer to certain pains as "neuralgic." This term is loosely used to include all types of pain, particularly pain about the head and jaws.

Real neuralgia is a painful affection of the nerves. It is never a pain vague in its nature, as is commonly believed. As a matter of fact, it is a distinct pain, often very severe.

This condition is commonly seen as a sort of family affliction. Frequently it is associated with other nervous disorders. It rarely affects children. Women are more likely to have it than men.

This condition is often the first sign of a weakened nervous system. Diseases causing marked emaciation and weakness, such as anemia, are often complicated by neuralgic pains.

Some persons are particularly subject to this condition. Mere exposure to cold is sufficient to bring on an attack to susceptible people.

Infected teeth, tonsils, nose and sinuses have all been given as causes of this persistent and annoying condition. Many teeth are sacrificed and many needless operations are performed, in an effort to cure this pain.

The pain in neuralgia is not constant. It varies in severity from a mild ache to an intense pain. This pain may become so severe as to require immediate attention by a physician. Neuralgia, like headache, causes much suffering in active persons who are not sick enough to go to bed.

In many cases the pain is confused with rheumatism. Particularly where there is pain associated with walking or other movements, it may be called rheumatism. Of course, it is entirely different.

It is generally assumed that this condition results from disease elsewhere in the body. When this is proven to be the case, it becomes necessary to remove the primary trouble. This does not justify the ruthless extraction of teeth and unnecessary operations, of course. If diseased tonsils or poor teeth are actually present they should be removed. This condition is never present if the general health is good.

Severe neuralgia is often entirely relieved by a change in climate and surroundings. Rest in the country is extremely beneficial.

Meat in excess is to be avoided as well as salts, peppers, spices and other condiments. A strict vegetable diet is advantageous in severe types of this condition. Drinking freely of water helps a lot.

Plenty of rest, at least eight hours of sleep, fresh air and sunlight are most essential. If you suffer from neuralgic pains you should attempt at once to build up the general health. If it continues, it is a sign of neglect on your part. Take heed of the warning.

ANSWERS TO HEALTH QUERIES.

M. O'N. Q—What causes an itching rash on the body, which becomes worse when I start to dance or exert myself? It seems to disappear as soon as I become cooled off.

A—This is probably due to a form of hives and may be caused by nervousness. For full particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

M.E.C. Q—What would you advise for ulcers of the stomach? Can this condition be remedied without resorting to operation?

A—Each case is different and must be treated accordingly. In some instances careful diet and general care will bring about improvement. For full particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

* * *

A—Sometimes. Your doctor will advise you.

* * *

MRS. E.T. Q—My little girl, aged nine, is underweight, what can I give her to make her gain?

A—Give her plenty of good nourishing food, including milk, eggs, cereals, fresh fruits and vegetables. See that she gets plenty of exercise in the open air and plenty of sleep. Give her cod liver oil as a general tonic.

* * *

J.M. Q—When ventilating a room should both transoms be opened, causing a draught—the doors being at either end of the room—or should only one transom be open at a time?

A—Have one transom open and one of the windows open from the bottom. This will permit the stale air to get out and the fresh air to come in.

* * *

HATTIE S. Q—What would relieve swelling in the case of milk leg?

A—Rest and elevation of the leg are essential in the treatment. Never massage a condition of this kind.—Copyright, 1931, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

Science Can Not Replace Religion.

BY ARCHIBALD HENDERSON.

Nowadays some one is always warning us against something. Beware of this, that or the other! Art is too realistic, we are told; sex is being overplayed. Or philosophy has lost its hold upon the world. Or religion no longer means anything. Even science does not escape the prevalent mania for denigration. To be hard-boiled is to be modern—and superior. We are daily warned of the dangers of credulity.

Bernard Shaw makes bitter assaults upon the doctors, excoriates the vivisectors, and exposes vaccination as a superstition and a fetish. Edison makes light of current methods of education, and dwells upon the uselessness of much that we study in our schools, colleges and universities. Einstein inspires suspicion and doubt of the absolute, and reduces the world to a system of relativity.

Not long before his death, Field Marshal Earl Haig, a conservative and not a radical, warned the youth of England against the danger which lies in making science into a sort of deity. Beware of the superstition of science. Avoid making a pseudo-religion out of science and a pseudo-science out of religion. Credulity is dangerous. Don't make the mistake of believing in the impossible.

There is a searching of minds and a searching of hearts regarding both science and religion. If religion is failing us, shall we not look then to science to bring us out of this slough of despond? Perhaps science, the reliable, the truth incarnate, may vamp up a new religion for us, and bring back our old confidence and certitude.

It can scarcely be doubted that science is being called upon to perform the impossible, to work miracles. Our scepticism, our persistent practice of debunking, has resulted in exposing much imposture and producing vacua in many regions. Unfortunately, as E. T. Bell points out in "Debunking Science," the result has been that science suddenly expanded and filled the hole.

This is surely not a healthy state of affairs. If religion weakens or fails, let us say for the sake of argument, surely it is unduly credulous to believe that science can do for the race what religion has failed to do. Science is not moral, it is not ethical. Science has nothing to do with either morality or ethics. The scientist discovers a new high explosive or a new poison gas; but he does not say what is to be done with these dangerous new discoveries. Let us not be so credulous as to believe that, for all its marvelous accomplishments, science is omnipotent and can take the place of philosophy and religion.—Copyright, 1931, International Feature Service, Inc.

An 1861 Estimate of the War.

BY J. H. GALBRAITH.

The north was full of men of prominence in the first six months of the Civil war who believed that "putting down the rebellion" as they spoke of it would be a matter of but months at the most. And not all of them were in private life. Secretary Chase of Mr. Lincoln's cabinet was one of the most enthusiastic of these, and a letter he wrote to General McClellan under date of July 7, 1861, is laughable now. Chase had never met McClellan, but took much interest in him because he entered the service with an Ohio command. He let the general know at the outset that he had been mainly instrumental in having him promoted to major general. He had, he said, with his own hand written the order that extended the district of his command over Virginia. Next after the Southwest he regarded this as the most promising theater of military activity.

The general was at that time away from his department, but Chase expressed the hope that he would shortly be ready to take up the command in person and that with his Ohio and Indiana troops move down through the mountainous sections of Virginia, the Carolinas, Georgia and Alabama, recovering those areas from the hands of the insurgents, reaching the gulf at Mobile or New Orleans, "thus cutting the rebellion in two."

"This is, in my view," he wrote, "among the important lines of movement the most important, and offers the best theater for political and military genius. . . . I am sure you can act it well."

He closed the letter with: "Perhaps you will laugh at all this and ask: 'What does the secretary of the treasury so far from the money bags?'" and no doubt General McClellan did laugh at it if the situation as he saw it through his better military eyes was not too serious to admit of laughing.

Dinner Stories.

"What became of that investigation you started?"

"It is still gathering momentum!" answered Senator Sorghum.

"Exactly what was it about?"

"I can't recall. The way it keeps on running makes me think it may have had something to do with perpetual motion."

New York Day by Day.

BY O. O. McINTYRE.

New York, April 24—Thoughts while strolling: Usually something dignified about one named Elliott. A window of ivory elephants Diamond Jim used to collect them. Since Diamond Jim's passing, Charles Dana Gibson wears the biggest collars in town. The president of Dutton's—John McRea.

Samuel Merwin, an Evanston, Illinois boy who made good in the city. Harum-scarum girls who breeze into hotel lobbies at noon puffing cigarets. And the dazzling redhead blaze—thief, fraud and courtesan. Pulsing throats and dimpled knees. A cop talks baby talk to his horse.

Too much chromium in the modernistic stuff. Looks too tinny, says the veteran art critic. A trained pigeon selects "fortune cards" from a box. Bob Kennedy of the Baltimore. The flushed earnestness of Joseph Urban. And the slow-gaited swing of his enormous bulk. Those fat ladies who carry long beaded bags.

Raymond Hitchcock's widow, Flora Zabelle Zar, to intimates. Douglas Fairbanks' closest friend in New York is Frank Case of the Algonquin. Gray black Cairns. Norman Anthony, Jr., who used to edit Life. Now freelancing successfully. I like to hear Zita Johann talk.

Withered ivory-skinned ladies who drive in the park afternoons, holding sun parasols. Fifth avenue doesn't seem the same without Vantine's. Two priests walk with heads bared across St. Patrick's lawn. Slot machine sign: "Drop coin, push button—and see what happens!" Yeah, and be scared out of my wits.

Summer peddlers out in the park—red balloons, crackerjack, lollipops and throw-balls on rubbers. Those fashionable luggage shops—the niftiest designs are manufactured in Oshkosh. They do not teach diving any more at swimming schools. They now call it "plunging."

Sinclair Lewis looks a little drawn. I can't tell a ship captain's uniform from a bandmaster's. White mustached clubmen with pale puffy lips who sit in club windows like gray clouds. Carl Van Vechten's eyes have a greenish tint. Or is that interesting?

Now that the Century theater is but a memory, the truth about its whispered "hoo-doo" has become generally known. Its ineffectiveness as a playhouse was an architectural blunder and not due to any eerie mystery. Doomed to failure from the start on account of the acoustics, it merely tried to carry on. On opening night voices could scarcely be heard back of the tenth row and in the balcony a song was a whisper. Fortunes were spent to overcome the difficulty, but it could not be accomplished. So the Century came down.

These sparkling days recall the spring pool among small town blades to hire the yellow carriage, with fringe like a hearse, to take favored ladies for the first seasonal ride. Trotting by the postoffice some local cut-up would yell: "How long you been saving up?" But you vanished in a cloud of dust across the railroad tracks, headed for the open spaces. Happy days!

The majority of my adult years have been spent trying to write. In all that time I do not remember having a satisfactory pen for more than a few days. Nor do I believe there is any model or make I have not given an honest trial. But no matter how satisfactory at the start they soon begin acting up and become a running mate for a postoffice pen at the crossroads. All this is a prelude to the fact that this morning I picked up one in a shabby Third avenue stationery shop. The price was eight cents and all day it worked dandy. But it is not much fun. Any minute I expect to kick the chair from under me or explode in my hand. I'm a pencil boy anyway.

Few actresses achieve the front pages so casually and effortless as Wilda Bennett. And she does not know it but she escaped tragic headlines by an eyelash last evening. A Washington Daybook.

BY HERBERT PLUMMER.

Washington, April 24—The disgust for the United States senate which Arthur Gould, of Maine, expressed when he quit that body March 4, is not shared by that other senator from the Pine Tree state.

For Fred Hale, a bachelor and a member of the senate since 1916, enjoys his job thoroughly.

A rather timid sort of person, somewhat short of stature and with closely cropped light hair, Hale comes of a family that long has been a power in national politics.

He is the son of one of the most powerful men ever to hold a seat in the United States senate. For thirty years his father, Eugene Hale, represented Maine in the senate. His grandfather, too, on the maternal side, was a senator as well as secretary of the interior.

Early the son was picked to succeed his father in politics. Graduating from Harvard he spent one year in law school then quit to enter his uncle's law office in Portland.

He was associated with his uncle for a time in a law firm, and upon his death succeeded to his practice.

Senator Hale's first venture into politics was in 1905 when he was elected to the Maine legislature. In 1916 he came to the senate and has been here ever since.

His career in Washington has been regularly Republican with "Progressive" leanings at times. He fought to have fertilizer removed from tariff duty and won.

Three months after the armistice was signed in 1918, in a senate speech, he demanded immediate withdrawal of American troops from Europe on the grounds that their presence there might lead to difficulty.

The navy is the one big thing in his interests. Rarely does he speak in the senate except on this subject. He has been chairman of the naval affairs committee since the beginning of his second term in 1922.

Firm is his belief that "a powerful American navy is the strongest factor for peace in the world." In the seventieth congress, over determined opposition, he succeeded in getting a bill through providing for fifteen additional cruisers.

And over the opposition of Coolidge and the views of Hoover, then president-elect, he conceded in having retained in the bill the 10,000 limit for construction clause.

He is fifty-seven years old. In the city he makes his home on fashionable N street. He plays golf for recreation when congress is in session, but back in Maine time for outdoor sports comes first. Camping fishing in the woods of Maine appeals strongly.

Sees a Sequence.

Certain ex-mayor of Chicago probably considers it a personal compliment that, as he retired from office, King George V is much better.—Cleveland News.

The Stars Say—

For SATURDAY, APRIL 25

THE lunar transits for this day show a very contradictory state of affairs. With the luminaries in square aspect there is danger in employment and, with superiors, a menace, heightened, if not aggravated, by the dominance of Mars, with its incitement of belligerency and violence, of speech as well as action. With the tendency to quarrels and aggressiveness restrained, the favorable place of Neptune may assist new projects and the Venus friendliness heighten personal popularity and prospects.

Those whose birthday it is may look for an exciting and eventful year with the prospect of quarrels and passionate indulgence imperiling employment and jeopardizing progress unless restrained. Personal friendliness and good nature may offset all hazards and bring happiness and social advantage. A child born on this day should be energetic and aggressive and at the same time kindly, sympathetic and affectionate. With these qualities co-ordinated it should make progress and attain personal favor and happiness.

Mrs. G.H. Lewis Will Make Bow On Air Friday

By Brush-Moore Leased Wire

RADIO is making ready for an elaborate observance of national music week.

Starting May 3 and continuing for seven days, special programs are being planned. Included will be the NBC Sunday night classical concert and "The Story of the Star Spangled Banner" on the night of May 4.

The Columbia chain system will also join in the observance with a number of features.

• • •

Mrs. Grace Hegger Lewis, the former wife of Sinclair Lewis, will make her first feature appearance before the "Mike" Friday as guest artist of the Quakers. She will talk about some of the outstanding men of literature of the day, and the program comes over the NBC-WJZ air lanes (KDKA) at 10 p. m.

• • •

It's a fact—sound effect engineers for the Empire builders program solved the program of bringing the sound of fire engines, dashing to an alarm, to the radio audience by enlisting the services of a Chicago policeman who rode his automobile around the roof of the merchandise mart where the Chicago studios are located. Microphones picked up the sounds of the roaring cutout, siren and bells.

Congressman Hamilton Fish's legislative proposals for curbing the radicalism in this country will be answered by Professor James Davis of Yale university in an address over the NBC-WEAF network (WTAM) Friday at 9:45.

Two announcers have been added to the staff at the Columbia Broadcasting System, bringing the total to an even dozen. The newcomers are Kenneth Roberts and Edward Cullen.

Dial these on your radio Friday: Bonnie Laddies at 6.30 p. m. from the NBC-WJZ studios . . . Beatrice Lillie as guest star with Nat Bruskiloff orchestra over the NBC-WJZ hookup at 8 p. m. . . . Josef Koestner orchestra from the NBC-WEAF network at 9:30 p. m. . . . Major Bowes family party at 7 p. m. over the NBC-WEAF air lanes. . . . Harry Reser orchestra to WJZ at 9 p. m. . . . Week-end program over NBC's WEAF network at 10 p. m. . . . Slumber music at 11 p. m. from the NBC-WEAF studios.

Championship athletic events of the 22nd annual Drake relays, to be held in Des Moines, Iowa, will be described for radio listeners over an NBC network Saturday at 4:30 p. m.

IN CONTEST

Marion Youths Get Honorable Mention in Art Work.

COLUMBUS, April 24—Two Marion youths received honorable mention in the art contest for high school students conducted during the last two months by the Student Senate of Ohio State university and the Sun Dial, humorous publication of the university.

They are Charles Wood and Robert Smith. Wood gained recognition in the cartoon field and Smith received mention for his work in illustrations.

Winners of the contest were Bernard Schmittke, Glenville high school, Cleveland, and Benjamin Bloom, South high school, Columbus.

Chic Star Patterns

Practical and Simple

Cut Only in Large Sizes.

Pattern 2129

If you've gained a lot of weight and want a frock that is comfortable as well as attractive, make this model for yourself in cotton or silk wash fabric. You will appreciate the tucks at front shoulders and back neck because they afford extra fullness just where it is most needed. The bodice, cleverly styled in points and daintily trimmed with small bow, tops a skirt perfectly proportioned with the right amount of flare. Be sure you select a small print for Pattern 2129 so as not to disturb its slim styling.

May be obtained only in sizes 40, 42, 44, 46, 48 and 50. Size 40 requires 2⅞ yards of 36 inch material.

No dressmaking experience is necessary to make this model with our pattern. Yardage for every size, and simple, exact instructions are given.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coins carefully wrapped, or stamps, for each pattern. Write plainly your name, address and style number. BE SURE TO STATE SIZE WANTED.

COUPON

This pattern will be sent on receipt of 15 cents. Make number, name, address, etc., plain. Send to the pattern department THE MARION STAR BUREAU, Pattern Fashion Syndicate, Inc., 243 West 17th St., New York City.

NEW GANG LEADER CRASHES MOVIES

A new gang leader crashes the talking pictures. Leo Carrillo leads the cast in "Hell Bound" playing at the Palace Saturday and Sunday. In support are Lola Lane and Lloyd Hughes topping the list and Ralph Ince, Gertrude Astor, Helene Chadwick and others playing minor roles.

LOLA LANE

Carrillo is seen as "Nick Cotrelli" the master of a gang the king of killers, monarch of machine-guns, and lord of larceny. How's that for a description of a bad man"

The story reads like exciting entertainment and the cast is capable. Carrillo is of Spanish and Mexican extraction, with a family tree that reads like a royal family. He was born in California and started his career with the hope of becoming a civil engineer. He developed a penchant for drawing cartoons of his fellow workers, the first sign of the artistic talent. He went on the Orpheum circuit in character roles and from then on his rise has been rapid. His brother, E. J. Carrillo, is now engaged in building the $35,000,000 park donated to New York City by John D. Rockefeller.

A standard act, Campus Capers heads the week-end vaudeville bill. Seven girls with lavish stage settings cut the capers. Burt Ryton, known as the fashion plate of vaudeville, and Dale and Myers, a comedy team, round out the bill.

PALACE PICTURE STORY OF WAR

A romance of war with most of the action taking place in Vienna is the story of "Dishonored" the current entertainment at the Palace theater.

Marlene Dietrich is the charming dishonorable lady who lives unafraid and dedicates her life to her country. She presents some interesting character and personality changes and her acting is entertaining. Presented first as the bitter and discouraged woman of the Vienna slums, she blossoms forth as the magnet of the city's drawing rooms and cafes. She matches her wits against Victor Laglen, a tricky, handsome young officer of the Russian army who genuinely loves her.

There is a dramatic climax to the story, which despite its tragedy, seems the only way out of the dilemma. The picture is splendidly directed by Josef von Sternberg.

The news reel and short musical sketch together with the comedy complete the bill.
